Khrushchev Sees Visit To U. S. As Mission For Peace

Red Premier Vows There Will Be No Saber-Rattling In Talks

MOSCOW (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev said today he would visit the United States next month "as a peaceful man" and that he wanted to talk peace "without saber-rattling."

In a rare news conference in the Kremlin, Khrushchev said the object of his history-making visit to the United States, and the return visit later in the autumn of President Eisenhower, would be to find a "common language, and a common understanding, of questions to be resolved."

He said there are "real possibilities" that the United States and the Soviet Union could build up their relations on a basis of "peace and friendship."

But he said, "We must come together to talk peace without saber-rattling."

This was Khrushchev's third news conference since the one he held last November in which he originally set a six-month deadline for the Western allies to get out of Berlin.

Today, with the Berlin question still unresolved and the Geneva foreign ministers' meeting a failure, Khrushchev and Eisenhower were making preparations for top-level talks which could pave the way to an eventual settlement.

Khrushchev said today "There will be no change in the status of Berlin as long as negotiations are in progress."

Khrushchev started off the news conference by reading a lengthy statement in which he called for better relations between the United States and Russia.

But, as usual, the meat of what he said was packed into his answers to questions afterward.

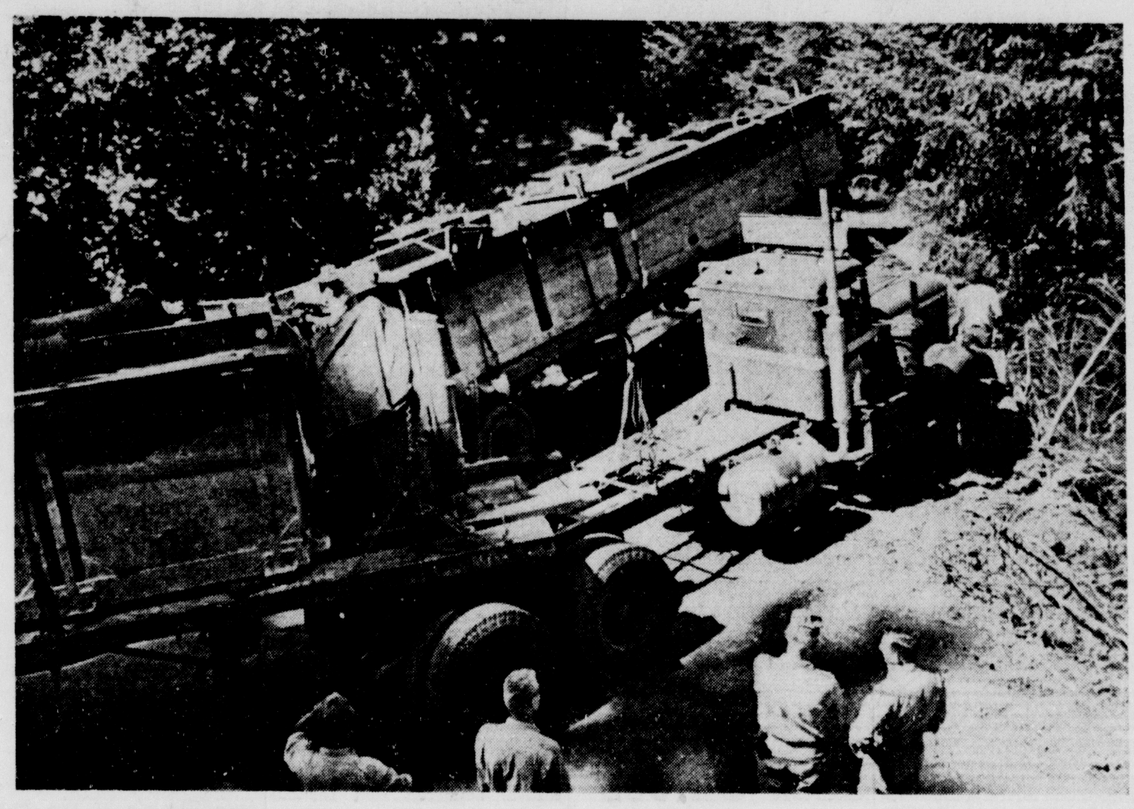
One reporter asked him if he would show Eisenhower a rocket base in the Soviet Union. Khrushchev ridiculed the reporter and replied that as far as he was concerned:

"I know that America has rockets, but I am going there as a peaceful man for peaceful purposes. If I am invited to see rockets, I will not agree to see them.

"As far as this country is concerned, the people here are very hospitable, and various areas of our country will have plenty to show him (Eisenhower) by way of hospitality.

"But if we were to show him one rocket, he might ask what kind of premier is this? This is not hospitality. You invited us to discuss peace and you expect us to see rockets."

He also made the point that the meeting with Eisenhower will not replace a summit conference of the major powers.



MOUNTAIN TANGLE — Getting the parts of a huge pumper dredge to Alpine Lake to transfer water into Bon Tempe Lake proved no simple task yesterday. Here a mountainside road is blocked by truck-trailer which failed to make turn and almost went over edge. Trailer was finally steered back onto road and completed trip without damage. Marin Lawmen Join Hunt For Cop's Slayers

A Hillsborough policeman was shot to death early today near lonely Skyline boulevard in San Mateo County, and the trail reportedly led across the bay and north into Mendocino County.

Sheriff Louis P. Mountanos said every Marin law enforcement officer was on the lookout for a stolen car in which the men suspected of shooting 37-year-old Gene Doran to death were believed heading north. But so far, he reported this afternoon, no lead has appeared in this county.

The San Mateo County sheriff's office issued an all-points bulletin for three men who were reported to have left at 2 a.m. today to go deer hunt-

State Halts All Ads For Road Projects

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state today halted advertising for contracts for all highway construction because of the threat of a stoppage of federal funds.

Robert B. Bradford, state director of public works, said the action was taken because of the failure of Congress to approve continuation of the federal aid highway program.

Big Dredge To Pump Water From One Lake To Another

A big pumper dredge floating on Alpine Lake's 900 million gallons of storage water will hum into action tomorrow afternoon on a 40-day job of transferring 200 million gallons into Bon Tempe Lake for thirsty South Marin customers.

By about mid-September, it was estimated today, the Bon Tempe supply will have been replenished by about its present holding which, without such replenishment, would be running out about that time.

Robert E. Rich, president of Associated Dredging Co. of Sausalito, said the pump on his dredge can move about five million gallons of water a day. All parts had been sent up by truck by early today.

Transport of the Sausalito-built Crescent dredge started Monday afternoon from Truckee where it had been recently at work. Three trucks arrived yesterday with only one interruption. One of them cut a curve too sharply near its destination and nearly went over the bank.

Traffic on the winding water district road above Fairfax was tied up for some time until the big truck-trailer could be maneuvered back into the roadway.

Two more trucks reached the pumping site early today.

Not all the usual dredge parts had to be sent up to the Alpine Dam because only pumping is required, with no movement of soil. A special power line has been run in to provide electricity. The operation will be controlled by a single man.

YOUTH CREDITS SURVIVAL TO SCOUT SKILLS

WEST LOS ANGELES (UPI) — A 13-year-old Boy Scout today told how the "self-confidence" he learned from Scouting brought him safely through a two-day ordeal of being lost in the High Sierra.

Marshall Rubin, a first class Scout and member of Westwood Troop 218, said he became lost when he went out with another Scout at the Rock Creek Scout Camp in the Mono Creek area Saturday.

"Suddenly I found I was alone. I called but the other boy didn't hear me," he said.

Marshall said he walked upstream but could not find anyone. He spent the night sleeping beside a trail with the temperature in the 40s at that 11,000-foot elevation.

Keeping in mind the rules of Scouting, Marshall said he did not try to build a fire to keep warm because "I didn't want to take a chance making a fire in a heavily wooded area."

A sheriff's posse found Marshall early Monday.

PONY CHAMPIONS

Marin Ball Club Needs Funds For Utah Trip

Fifteen Marin County boys may miss the opportunity of a lifetime unless they manage to raise $1,200 by this weekend, it was revealed today.

The young men are members of the outstanding North Marin Pony League all-star baseball squad. They need the money to pay their expenses to the Far West Regional Championships in Provo, Utah, starting next Monday.

North Marin won the right to represent Northern California in the regionals by sweeping undefeated through the district tournament last weekend at Redding.

Maj. Gordon R. Sorensen of Hamilton Air Force Base, president of the North Marin League, explained that all-star squads are required to pay their own expenses to regional play.

"But," he added, "we've exhausted all our expense money going to the district tournament. If our team is to go to Utah it will be necessary for the citizens of Marin to donate funds for expenses."

He said "at least" $1,200 would be required to finance the trip. That would cover air transportation and meals.

Major Sorensen said the money should be raised by Friday night and announced several headquarters throughout the county where donations will be accepted. They include Don Swan, Beehive Realty and Insurance, Novato; Bob Robertson, Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce; Major Sorensen, 1380 Joyce street, Novato; Mrs. Esther Muelrath, 21 Linda avenue, Santa Venetia; Paul Leahy, California Pacific Title Co., 1200 Lincoln avenue, San Rafael, and Fred Mack, 51 Lomita drive, Mill Valley.

Meanwhile, Manager Joe Tucker and Coach Gene Chaon continue drilling their all-stars in hope they will reach the regionals and eventually the

Probers Say Hoffa Paid Off Mobsters

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate committee investigating rackets charged today that James R. Hoffa paid "a long-standing debt to the Chicago underworld" with three million dollars of Teamsters Union health and welfare funds.

The committee in a report to the Senate, said that Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, personally swung the deals to please the underworld and benefit the family of Paul Dorfman. It said Dorfman is the man who introduced Hoffa to "Midwest mob society."

In Chicago, members of the Dorfman family were not available for comment.

The committee said Midwest Teamsters Union members paid dearly for the deals since 1950, in drastic reduction of health-welfare insurance benefits and inflated charges for the insurance. (See story on page 16.)

Ike Sets Radio-TV Talk Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower will address the nation by radio and television tomorrow night on the need for Congress to enact an "effective" labor reform bill this year.

The White House announced that radio and TV networks have agreed to set aside 15 minutes time for the President's message.

(Locally, Eisenhower's address will be telecast over KPIX (Channel 5) at 7:30 p.m.)

Obsolete Army Reservation May Become County Park

A military reservation in southwest Marin, existence of which is unknown to most Marinites, may become a county park.

Involved is the Frank Valley Military Reservation, an 8.93-acre parcel of high ground between Shoreline highway and the Pacific Ocean, acquired by the Army in the 1920s and used as a fire-control station for coast artillery.

Now that coast defense guns are as obsolete as cavalry horses, the Army is declaring the reservation surplus, the county board of supervisors was advised yesterday by the Department of the Interior.

If not wanted by other federal agencies, the land would become available to local governmental units for purchase, the letter noted, suggesting that Marin County might want to buy it for a park and recreational area.

The supervisors referred the matter to the county park and recreation commission.

Nixon Back From Trip Behind Iron Curtain

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon, returning from talks with Nikita Khrushchev, was to meet today with President Eisenhower, who will entertain the Soviet premier here next month.

Nixon's tour of the Soviet Union also has primed him to discuss with Eisenhower what the President faces in meeting Khrushchev and in making a return visit to the Soviet Union later.

A fell-fledged airport reception and a welcoming delegation headed by Acting Secretary of State C. Douglas Dillon awaited Nixon's return from his two-week tour behind the Iron Curtain.

The vice president was to proceed directly to the White House for a first-hand report to Eisenhower. In advance, Nixon had already sent from abroad a long written account of his views.

Ten thousand Poles lined the streets of Warsaw today, waving and applauding as Nixon left by jet plane for Washington.

"We came to Poland as friends," the vice president said in a farewell speech at the Babice Military Airport on the edge of Warsaw. "We are leaving Poland as better friends."

State Court Rejects Plea By Chessman

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The California Supreme Court today refused to grant a rehearing to author-convict Caryl Chessman, kidnap-rapist who has avoided the San Quentin Prison death chamber for 11 years.

The high court will return the case on Friday to the trial court in Los Angeles County which is expected sometime next week to fix a new execution date for him.

West Blames Russia For Geneva Flop

Big Four Wind Up Parley; Door Open For New Talks

GENEVA (AP) — The Western powers blamed the Soviet Union in the closing session of the Big Four conference today for their failure to reach agreement here on a Berlin settlement. They accused the Soviets of seeking to annex West Berlin to the Communist system.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter said that as far as he had been able to determine in almost 10 weeks of negotiation, the Soviet Union is "not really interested in improving the situation in Berlin."

"It is interested in getting the Western powers out of Berlin," he said in his final speech of the conference. "Apparently continued competitive co-existence of freedom and communism in Berlin is unrewarding to the Soviet Union."

SOVIET PROPOSALS

"The Soviet proposals to date have seemed to us to be designed gradually to annex these people to the Communist system against their will. This cannot be permitted," he said.

Although the East-West foreign ministers ended their conference without an agreement on Berlin, they recessed with a decision to meet again at a date and place yet to be decided.

DISCOUNTS FAILURE

Whether a new round will be able to accomplish more than the negotiations which began here May 11 probably will depend on the outcome of the discussions between President Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev. The decision to hold these talks has already discounted the failure of the foreign ministers at Geneva.

Herter said the West had been willing to accept a Berlin agreement limited in time provided its rights in West Berlin were not jeopardized. But he declared that he and his colleagues had never been able to

State Chamber Backs Marin Road Requests

The California Chamber of Commerce will support Marin's board of supervisors in its requests for priorities in Marin highway construction, the board was told yesterday.

Representatives of the chamber and of the state Department of Public Works and Division of Highways met briefly with the supervisors for discussion of county highway needs.

HEADS LIST

Heading the requested priority list, to be presented by the state chamber to the state Highway Commission Aug. 26, is the planned interchange on Highway 101 at Marinwood.

Second priority is asked for constructing an interchange at San Pedro road and extension of the Highway 101 freeway from there to Terra Linda.

Other projects on the list are:

NEW INTERCHANGE

Interchange at Pacheco Creek and San Jose boulevard.

Extension of the 101 freeway through Novato with interchange to serve the community.

Attending yesterday's meeting were T. Fred Bagshaw of Mill Valley, assistant state director of public works and former Marin supervisor; J. P.

Novato School Trustees Adopt Increased Budget

Trustees of the Novato Unified School District last night adopted a final 1959-60 budget of $1,578,406 after hearing no protests.

The figure is $331,790 greater than the past year's estimated expenditures, but Supt. William J. J. Smith said the current operating tax rate of $3.16 per $100 of assessed valuation and increases in state and federal apportionments are expected to be enough to keep the tax rate the same, he said.

State apportionments are expected to total $727,877; federal aid, $101,971; local income, $548,165.

Board members last night agreed to subscribe to Bay Area educational television station KQED's programs for the new school year at a cost of about $660.

Trustees agreed with board chairman Earl Marshall that "there are still many weaknesses in the programming, but we ought to support it on the basis of its potential usefulness to the district."

Trustees last night also:

1. Agreed to pay part-time school secretaries $1.85 per hour 190 days a year.

2. Accepted the low bid of $629 by Lee Mac Paving Co. of Corte Madera for 4,212 square feet of blacktop paving at Lu Sutton School. Three other bids ranged to a high of $1,250.

3. Agreed to the purchase of assorted business machines for Novato High School classes from 17 separate bidders at a total cost of $10,145, and drafting equipment for the high school from five bidders at a total cost of $2,285.

4. Decided to meet "informally" at 7:30 p.m. next Tuesday for a tour of district schools and to decide their recommendation on a successor to board member Leo Mindling, who has resigned.

5. Agreed, by a 4-1 vote (Earl Marshall dissenting), that a resident of Monte Maria south of the district should be accepted as a student at Novato High School next month. Jack O. Smith of 525 Eldridge avenue said it would prove a hardship to send his son to San Rafael High School.

Bel Aire School Work Lagging

A tight construction schedule for the Bel Aire School addition is creating some doubt as to whether classrooms will be completed in time for school opening in September, Supt. Paul R. Stouffer told Reed Union School District trustees last night.

Stouffer said work is now progressing on time but nobody can say certainly that it will finish on the dot.

He described the work situation as "nip and tuck," but expressed hope that completion in time for opening of school on Sept. 10 will be achieved.

NMWD Will Buy Wiring For Plant

Directors of the North Marin Water District last night authorized an expenditure of $800 for electrical wiring at the water treatment plant at Stafford Dam to provide for additional pumping capacity during peak periods.

The recommendation was made by Jerome B. Gilbert, district manager.

Gilbert also was instructed to review district policy which allows private contractors to use water for construction purposes, after learning that some users have been loading tank trucks from fire hydrants without district permission.

Directors deferred consideration of an employee health insurance plan until after more study is given alternate plans offered by various insurance groups.

Janitor Resigns To Become Pupil

A janitor at San Rafael High School has quit to continue his own education, the San Rafael Board of Education was told last night.

Burton Hickok resigned effective July 17 to attend San Francisco State College.

Ambrose Chase, custodian at Santa Venetia School, left to assume a position elsewhere and Mrs. Jane Woodbury, library clerk at the same school, resigned because of home responsibilities.

Maternity leave was granted Mrs. Myra Losee for the school year 1959-60 and Mrs. Marilyn Hawthorne, presently on maternity leave, resigned because of departure from California.

Hub Manager Back On Job

Arthur W. Brewer, San Anselmo city manager, returned from vacation today to "a big pile of work," to use his own words.

Brewer said he hoped for completion shortly of setting up a non-profit corporation which will handle financing of a second San Anselmo firehouse, to be purchased by the city on a lease-option plan.

While Brewer was away, three members of the city council — Mayor Arthur W. Smith and Councilmen Carmel H. Booth and Jordan L. Martinelli Jr. — announced plans to vote repeal of the city manager ordinance next Tuesday night. They proposed to replace it with a city administrator ordinance, vesting less power in the appointed administrator.

Brewer declined to comment on this development, saying, "I haven't had time yet to read all the papers."

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Godfrey Works Again

HONOLULU (AP) — Arthur Godfrey has resumed his work before television cameras for the first time since his April cancer operation.

With Waikiki Beach and the Pacific as background, Godfrey yesterday made a portion of his hour-long comeback show to be presented Sept. 16.

Plane Ditching Probed

LANGLEY AIR FORCE BASE, Va. (AP) — Air Force authorities today pushed an investigation of the ditching of a big tanker plane in the Atlantic 200 miles east of Bermuda. One crewman was missing, and an intensive air-sea search was under way for him.

Seven others were rescued when the six-engined craft plopped into the ocean yesterday near the Panamanian tanker Imperial St. Lawrence.

Defense Funds Pass

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has passed its biggest money bill of the session: $39,228,239,000 for defense.

It includes, among many other items, funds to plan a second nuclear aircraft carrier and to boost the number of Army reservists and Marines.

The bill, approved by voice vote in the House and by an 85-0 roll call vote in the Senate yesterday, goes to the White House.

Aid Probe Continues

WASHINGTON (AP) — An investigation into conflicting testimony over the operations of the foreign aid program in Viet Nam is to be continued. A Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee carrying on the probe voted yesterday to go on.

Liner On Schedule

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) —The big liner Queen Elizabeth will sail on schedule tomorrow despite her collision off New York with an American freighter. The liner arrived last night still showing the scars of her mishap in the fog. The big ship was damaged slightly.

Seeds Into Space

FARMINGDALE, N.Y. (UPI)— Spinach and turnip seeds will be sent into space sometime this week as part of program to determine a diet for future space explorers.

Republic Aviation scientists, who made the announcement last night, said the seeds will be sent more than 100,000 feet high in a Navy balloon, at which height they will be exposed to lethal doses of radiation. Later the seeds will be planted in Republic's "Lunar Garden" and studied during their germination and growth.

Space Program Tuneup

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —An Army Redstone missile roared aloft last night in a tuneup for its vital role in America's man-in-space program. There was no official announcement on the test results.

Early next year this nation's Mercury astronauts are expected to take short rides in a capsule boosted aloft by Redstone missiles.

Girl's Hearing Delayed

WEST COVINA (AP)—The preliminary hearing for Carole Tregoff on a charge she helped her physician-boyfriend murder his wife has been put off a week.

The hearing was reset for Aug. 11 yesterday so Miss Tregoff's recently hired attorney could familiarize himself with the case.

The 22-year-old divorcee wept as she appeared in court for the resetting. She is alleged to have joined wealthy Dr. Bernard Finch, 41, in killing Mrs. Barbara Finch, 33, the night of July 18.

Author Quarantined

NEW YORK (UPI) — Patrick Dennis, the author of "Auntie Mame," was in quarantine today at the U.S. Public Health Hospital on Staten Island because he forgot to take a smallpox shot before going to Russia in June.

Dennis was put in quarantine on his arrival from Europe Monday when public health officials noted that his vaccination certificate had expired. He must remain in quarantine until Aug. 16.

Sex Surveyor Heard

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The hearing of a 38-year-old teacher accused of unprofessional conduct for taking a "little Kinsey" sex survey among his teen-age students was expected to end today.

Cecil Cook, Van Nuys High School physiology and math teacher, was ordered to return today to complete his testimony in defense of the survey.

Cook said in the fifth day of the hearing yesterday that he held the survey among his mixed physiology students last January after another teacher had used it without incident.

Bribe Charges Loom

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk isn't ready to say yet whether his investigation of the state Farm Placement Service will result in criminal charges.

But he did tell a news conference yesterday that any farmer offering a bribe to a placement official will be turned over to local authorities for criminal action.

Mosk said probably only a few California farmers have offered bribes or placed pressure on state officials to permit the use of cheap Mexican labor when domestic help was available.

Riots Jolt Caracas

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Armed troops kept vigil today over Venezuela's jittery capital, shaken by nine hours of bloody rioting in which at least four persons were killed and more than 100 wounded.

The demonstration began yesterday with a rally of workers protesting cancellation of an emergency public works project to provide jobs for the unemployed.

Goaded by agitators, the mob grew to about 10,000 persons and began roaming in bands through the city, attacking police, shops and government buildings.

Controversy Slows Lincoln Extension

Disagreement between property owners and the City of San Rafael yesterday slowed plans to construct the extension of Lincoln avenue.

After an hour and a half of discussion, City Councilman Louis H. Baar suggested the property owners meet once more among themselves, then return to the city council and tell the city the best deal they will give.

Baar's suggestion was made to beer distributor Paul Ciampi, whose property lies along the planned first phase of the extension.

MONDAY MEETING

The council will meet again on the matter at 9:45 a.m. Monday, a session also set for a planning commission matter. The council will open a hearing on an appeal from a planning commission decision that rejected a tentative map of Terra Linda Meadows. The hearing probably will be continued to the regular meeting date of Aug. 17.

At 10 a.m. Monday, the council will sit as a board of equalization. City officials said the meeting probably will be routine and not many protests are expected.

Other councilmen present yesterday were Fred E. Jensen, acting as mayor, and Joseph F. Sauer.

PROPOSAL DISAPPROVED

The city's proposal on sharing costs for construction of the street and contribution of rights of ways met with Ciampi's disfavor, and also was opposed by Henry (Babe) Ghilotti, representing La Terra Properties.

Elias Day, division superintendent of Pacific Gas and Electric Co., indicated he felt his firm would not especially benefit from the extension. "We would like to cooperate," he said, "but we don't feel we should contribute valuable property that we could sell. We have access out Lindaro (street)."

City Engineer Dominic J. Selmi presented a number of tables setting forth proposals both by property owners and the city, and estimated costs of three phases of construction.

The first phase (from Second street to the bridge) would cost $17,290; second phase (the bridge and the Northwestern Pacific Railroad crossing) $38,027; third phase (southeast of bridge) $21,719.

The city already has paid out more than $7,000 for engineering and surveying.

In brief, the city's financing proposal is $26,213 from the city and $58,023 from property owners.

Under the property-owner proposal the city would pay $60,405, and the property owners $23,831.

In both instances the city would also be included as a property owner and would have to share that cost too.

Jensen objected that under the property owner proposal the city would have to foot 90 per cent of the bill. Ciampi countered that property owners have offered a 40-foot right-of-way free.

The meeting was held in hope of awarding a contract on the project. Ghilotti Brothers, Inc., of San Rafael had presented a low bid of $73,772. The street would extend from Lincoln through the former Little League baseball field and curve to connect with Irwin street.

Watered-Down Rights Bill Gets Approval

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee today approved a civil rights bill providing federal criminal penalties in cases of bombings, mob action against school desegregation and destruction of election records.

But in a last-minute switch, the committee struck out of the bill all provisions for technical and other aid to school desegregation.

It was the third major amputation on the bill accomplished by the coalition.

The bill, which now goes to the House, also would extend for two years the life of the existing Civil Rights Commission.

The measure follows in large part recommendations by President Eisenhower's administration.

But the committee deleted an Eisenhower proposal for a special commission on equal job opportunity under government contracts.

Also deleted was a proposal to extend the enforcement powers of the U. S. attorney general.

San Rafael To Continue Lengthy Report Cards

San Rafael elementary schools will use the lengthy report cards introduced last fall for a second year before any revision is made.

Dr. Mildred Barnard, director of elementary instruction, today said the report cards will be used again during the 1959-60 school year. They will then be evaluated on a two-year period basis, she said. Her idea is that Parent-Teacher Assn. groups should be asked to aid school officials in the evaluation.

A child is graded on his own ability as well as on the average of his classmates. A mark of C represents an average mark and not "just getting by," Supt. Frank L. Lucas explained when the report cards made their debut last November.

Dr. Barnard reported that the new cards "met with more favor before the year was out than at the outset.

"Parents like specifics," she said. "They don't like their child to receive passing grades in elementary school and then find he is in trouble in junior high or high school."

The first grade teachers had the most difficulty with the new report cards, she said.

As a sample of the grading system, on an upper grade card a child receives language grades on "learning language skills," "expressing ideas in writing," "expressing ideas in speaking" and "acceptable progress for this child."

At the time the cards were introduced, Superintendent Lucas said they were on trial and revisions could be expected for the 1959-60 term.

Underwater Line Permit Asked

Hamilton Air Force Base has applied for an Army permit to construct an underwater power line crossing of a crash-boat channel for an approach lighting system at the base, the Army district engineer in San Francisco said.

Persons who oppose the work should submit written objections in triplicate to the district engineer at 180 New Montgomery street, San Francisco.

The United States Navy Department was established in 1798.

Steel Talks Held Amid Pessimism

NEW YORK (AP) — Steel management and union representatives met for the third straight day in mediation session today amid continuing pessimism.

Both sides declined comment on whether any progress has been made toward solution of the 22-day-old strike in the industry.

David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers Union, impatiently turned aside reporters' questions concerning what was discussed at yesterday's session.

McDonald said there had been company attempts to blackmail the government against direct intervention in the dispute.

R. Conrad Cooper, top industry negotiator, denied there was a threat to any one.

An unofficial tally of layoffs in industries depending on steel indicates that nearly 100,000 workers are idle.

The number of farmers in the U.S. has dropped from 6,500,000 in the last 1930's to about 4,700,000 today.

'POOR MAN'S CONTRAPTION'

Ex-Mechanic Invents Own Transportation

By WAT TAKESHITA

A retired San Rafael machinist has found the ultimate in this age of small cars. His is the smallest yet, and it is powered by an air-cooled "rear engine."

But there the similarity with all other conventional small cars ends. C. R. Jeffers, 72, of 207 First street, putts along the streets of San Rafael on a bicycle hitched to a flat-bed trailer by a curved three-fourth inch pipe. On the trailer is mounted a three-horsepower motor which pushes him up Wolfe Grade and over White's Hill as far as Pt. Reyes.

"When a man goes on pension, he can't afford no car," Jeffers explains matter-of-factly. "This is good enough for me. I never have no trouble."

He made his contraption five years ago, investing in a new bicycle and some scrap metal and old pipes.

"The whole thing cost me around $150 plus labor. And now it costs me about $2 a month for gas and all" says Jeffers.

He calls it the "poor man's outfit."

Jeffers keeps off the freeways and bridges, but otherwise putts all over the county with head high. He is proudest of the one item that makes his "car" an equal to any other. It is a little motorcycle license plate with 1959 sticker tacked on to the metal trailer. "I pay $9 a year, just like anybody else," he beams.

To the casual onlooker, the most fascinating thing about the "poor man's outfit" is that it can stop and go at will. On first glance, there appears to be no connecting device between the bicycle and the rear trailer and motor, except for the pipe that keeps trailer and bicycle together.

How does he slow down, and shift gears?

"That's easy," says Jeffers. He has an automatic clutch on the rear motor that disengages when the motor slows down and engages when it speeds up. The speed of the motor is controlled by a piece ot wire that extends from the carburetor, up the pipe to the handlebars of the bicycle. As Jeffers pulls or pushes the "throttle" on his handlebar, the motor speeds up or idles.

He starts his motor with a recoil starter, as with an outboard motor. It runs at idle speed. Then he hops on the bicycle, pulls on the throttle, speeding up the motor. At a certain motor speed the automatic clutch catches, and he's off.

At intersections, he pushes on the throttle, slowing the engine and at the same time applies the coaster brake on his bicycle. This slows the engine and the clutch disengages.

The contraption can hit 25 or 30 miles an hour, "but if you want to live, you don't go that fast," says Jeffers. He cruises at 10 to 15 miles per hour. A red flag on a vertical pipe welded to the trailer serves as a warning to cars that follow. He's operated without an accident so far.

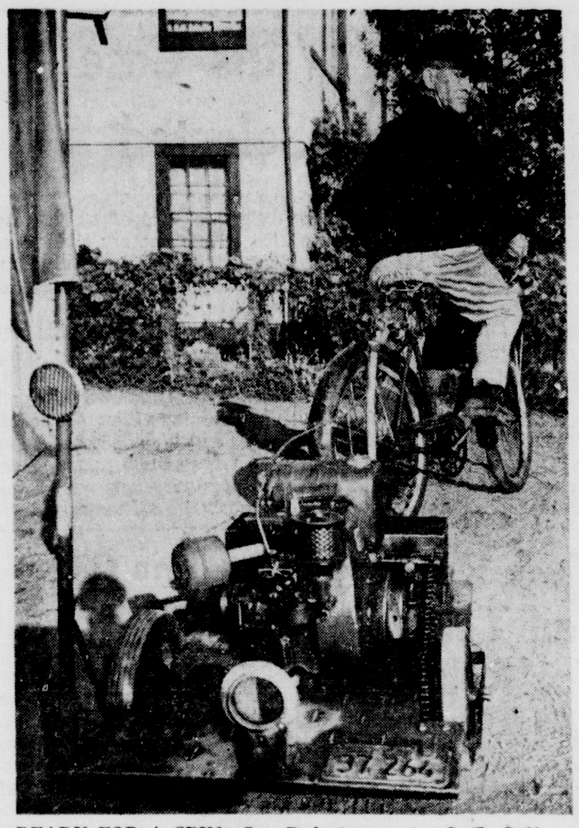
Originally from Kansas City, Mo., Jeffers worked for years as machinist in Portland. During World War II he worked in shipyards on submarines. In 1945 he moved to San Francisco, and five years later to Sausalito.

Jeffers has not owned a car since 1912. But in Marin, he decided he needed some form of motorized transportation and hit upon his contraption.

Last April, he moved to San Rafael, where he lives alone. His former wife and family are in Kansas City.

"Going up hills is no problem," says Jeffers. "It's when you come down." For example, on Wolfe Grade, he rides up. But coming down the steep incline, he walks.

"Going downhill, if my brakes give out, I'm a goner," he explains.



READY FOR A SPIN—San Rafael motorist C. R. Jeffers, 72, mounts his home-made "car" for an afternoon drive. He pulls throttle on handlebar to engage clutch for initial push.

Youth Pleads Innocent In Slashing Case

George Gaines, 18, of Marin City, yesterday pleaded innocent to charges that he slashed a 16-year-old youth's face Saturday during an argument in Marin City.

Also charged in the case are two 16-year-olds, one from Vallejo, and one from Marin City. Both have been certified to juvenile court.

The victim is Ralph Whitaker of Meadow Way, San Geronimo. He was treated for cuts, alleged to have been made by a razor, on his face, neck and left hand.

Gaines is due to appear in the Municipal Court of Judge Harold J. Haley Friday afternoon for a preliminary examination on the charges.

Anderson Asks Mental Report On Doomed Slayer

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —Acting Gov. Glenn M. Anderson has asked for a psychiatric report on accused slayer Marion James Linden after granting him a clemency hearing three days before his scheduled execution.

Linden's attorney, William Blaine of San Francisco, told Anderson yesterday that Linden was not mentally competent when he discharged his counsel during his original trial. The lieutenant governor said he would review the case after receiving a report from the San Quentin Prison neuropsychiatric committee.

Linden was convicted March 16, 1957, of killing Policeman Leo Wise of Los Angeles. The conviction was affirmed unanimously by the California Supreme Court. Linden is scheduled to die Friday in the San Quentin gas chamber.

The July total was down $22,599 from June and $574,297 under the total for July, 1958, when permits were issued for several apartment houses and the Greenbrae Lanes bowling alley.

GLOBETROTTERS TELL STORIES

Sausalito Harbor Provides Haven For Three World-Cruising Boats

By LARRY LOVETT

Frank Keillor and his family are en route from Vancouver, B. C., on the start of a world cruise destined to take at least four years. They are travelling in the 41-foot, white-hulled ketch, the Galatea II.

Nearby, Bob Adams and his wife are also en route from Vancouver on a leisurely trip down the coast with no definite time schedule or destination. Their transportation is the 31-foot, green-hulled ketch, Rainbird.

Also nearby, Aksel Pedersen is aboard his 28-foot, blue-hulled Marco Polo, another ketch, en route from New Zealand to his native Denmark.

All three are at the outer end of pier two of the Madden and Lewis Yacht Harbor in Sausalito.

Galatea II and Rainbird fly the Canadian flag while Marco Polo carries the New Zealand ensign.

All three have stories to capture the imagination.

Pedersen, 39, tells of varied exploits since he left his parents' farm in his native Skive, Denmark, in 1948.

"It was just that I wanted to do something else," he explains in almost perfect English. "So I took a freighter from New Zealand where I worked on farms, not far from the city of Christchurch."

He also worked for the International Harvester Co. plant near Christchurch. After four years, he had saved enough to buy the Marco Polo, a beautifully constructed double-ender, built in Auckland in 1954.

"One of the reasons I wanted her," said Pedersen, "was that she had already completed a 'round-the-world trip, showing her ability."

He left Auckland Feb. 13, 1958, figuring his time and money so as to make Denmark by November of this year when his father observes his 85th birthday. He headed for the Cook Islands (which he missed), Rarotonga, Tahiti and Maroiea, which Pedersen says has the most beautiful bay in the world. But troubles soon arrived.

At Arutua in the Tuomoto group, he ran onto a coral reef in the darkness. The Marco Polo suffered serious hull damage and Pedersen was in "dry dock" for 12 days after getting blood poisoning from coral cuts.

"With the marvelous help of the natives, both in repairing the boat and in nursing me back to health, we finally were again underway for the Marquesas and then Hawaii," he related.

"But it took five months in Hawaii to get Marco Polo really fixed up, and this just about took all my money."

On July 23 of this year, he made San Francisco and after a few days at the St. Francis Yacht Club, moved to his present berth in Sausalito.

But he has real troubles now. "Under your laws," he complained, "I cannot get a work permit to earn funds to get me home. Not only that, I cannot cross the Atlantic at this season."

He is hoping to get a job on some Scandinavian ship headed for Europe so he can get home, to return later for his boat.

His nearby neighbor, by contrast, is starting what promises to be a colorful trip.

Frank Keillor, 37, a one-time Vancouver fireman and more recently a successful contractor, built and launched his Galatea II in 1956. (The name is from Greek mythology and more recently was the name of a British man-of-war.)

Crew members are his wife, Margaret, 37, and sons Frank Jr., 17, and Terry, 14. An important passenger is Suki, a Siamese cat.

The Keillors sold their Vancouver home, pulled up stakes and set off on their trip—which is to be a world cruise "lasting at least four years," Keillor says with finality.

He has laid out a rough itinerary which includes stops at Los Angeles, San Diego and Acapulco. "Then we plan a 36-day trip westward to the Marquesas, Australia, Singapore and the Gulf of Aden. Whether we go through the Red Sea or go around Africa will depend upon world conditions at the time," Keillor says.

The family plans to spend six months in the Mediterranean, staying somewhere on the Spanish Riviera before going to the British Isles and northern Europe. They will then sail for the Canary Islands, Panama Canal and home.

The Galatea II is well loaded when ready for sea. She carries a two-year food supply, 170 gallons of water and 65 gallons of fuel for her auxiliary engine, most of it in reserve as local supplies will replenish her larder en route.

The boys will continue their education under a correspondence system approved by the board of education in Victoria, B. C.

"Since we've been here, many have asked about that propeller at the mast head," Keillor says. "That seven-foot blade spins our electric generator, giving us all the power we need. It works like an old windmill so it always faces the wind."

Third member of the trio, Bob Adams in Rainbird, is 43 and was formerly with one of the largest fishery firms in the world with headquarters in Vancouver. He is accompanied by his wife, Rene, and a big black Persian cat, "Penny." The cat was born on board.

The Adamses have been married for 15 years, and have been living on boats for 12. "To us it is a way of life and we wouldn't know how to live in a house," Adams says.

They have lived on Rainbird for six years.

They plan to head for Acapulco, possibly spending some time in the San Diego area. "Finances will control our itinerary," Adams says quite frankly.

"We have a year's supply of dry stores aboard, 75 gallons of water, and we can cruise 400 miles on our engine if necessary."

He is proud of the fact that he belongs to the Seven Seas Cruising Assn., a world wide group which requires that owners live aboard their boats and actually sail on long cruises. There are only about 100 members in the world, Adams says.

Adams and Keillor plan to leave Sausalito in about three weeks.

Sanitary District To Check Corte Madera Canal Odor

An odoriferous portion of Corte Madera's high-level canal will be deodorized by Corte Madera Sanitary District as a result of neighborhood complaints.

The matter, discussed at Monday night's meeting of the Corte Madera Town Council, was aired again by district directors last night.

Chairman Harold A. Snyder said he instructed William A. Adam, district manager, to deodorize a section of the canal near the Lakeside drive pumping station with "an accepted chemical."

"I made it very emphatic to Bill (Adam) that I wanted something done about the smell," Snyder said.

It comes, he said, from sewage pumped into the canal at times when repairs are made on the main high-pressure line to Highway 101 or when new service is added to the line.

"We have to shut down everything when we tap into the line because there just isn't enough storage capacity," Snyder said. "We pump into the canal only long enough to get the job done, a matter of about four hours.

"The situation occurs about once a year," Snyder added.

HAFB Craft Helps Hunt Missing Plane

An SA16 plane from the 41st Air Rescue Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base was to go aloft again this afternoon to search for a Tri-Pacer plane with four Sacramento fishermen missing since Sunday on a flight to Bodega Bay.

The Hamilton rescue plane was out searching for six hours yesterday over the water area. The Coast Guard sent an SA16 from San Francisco Airport.

The land search is being carried out by two Sonoma County Civil Air Patrol squadrons.

The missing plane, piloted by Paul R. Kontra, 29, was en route from Sacramento to Bodega Bay when it disappeared. Passengers were N. M. Bags, L. C. Hall and Logan Connor.

A housewife from Pope Valley, 10 miles northeast of Napa, reported today that she saw an airplane at the time the plane was scheduled to fly over the area, United Press International reported.

The ministers agreed to recess the conference, not end it. But the date for resuming negotiations was left open. Far more important now are the discussions Eisenhower and Khrushchev will hold next month in Washington and later in Moscow.

The exchange of visits between the Soviet and American leaders lessened for the time being the Soviet menace to West Berlin. Were it not for this prospective exchange, the failure of the foreign ministers to reach any accord on Berlin might have created an extremely hazardous situation.

General Plan For Sausalito Stirs Debate

The Sausalito City Council last night postponed adoption of a $10,000 general plan for city development, over a year in the making, after hearing citizens express fears that the plan may be more binding than the "guide" it was intended to be.

The matter was argued an hour and one-half by a full-house crowd at the city council meeting. Councilmen then put it over until Sept. 1.

Asked for an opinion, City Atty. John B. Ehlen said the plan has some binding features as public hearings would be required to change any of its provisions.

TAKES EXCEPTION

But Councilman Philip S. Ehrlich Jr., a staunch supporter of the plan, took sharp exception to Ehlen's opinion.

"The plan would still require implementation by ordinances covering zoning and so forth," argued Ehrlich, himself an attorney. "The proposed plan is not a law but a set of broad rules and a guide."

Robert McCabe, president of the Sausalito Citizens Council, expressed approval of the plan.

Fred H. Turner asked that proposed ordinances first be submitted. John Harlan, publisher of the Marin News, took exception to a number of provisions and argued that the plan failed to solve the community's traffic problem.

'AS A BLUEPRINT'

Russell Reagan, president of the Sausalito Property Owners Assn., expressed general approval and said the plan should be accepted "as a blueprint." Earl Dunphy and John Ostrowski expressed similar approval.

John Minton, chairman of the recreation commission, contended, "Any plan is bound to draw some adverse comment; but we should accept this plan admitting certain differences."

Also urging adoption was Sally Stanford, owner of the Valhalla Inn, who observed that "this has been on the agenda for over a year."

Many others commented for or against the measure until Ehrlich abruptly closed the matter with a suggestion Ehlen prepare a written opinion on the binding effect of the plan "and its impact" for presentation at the Sept. 1 meeting.

The suggestion was unanimously approved.

ing near Ukiah. They were sought because one has a name similar to that on a bloodsmeared driver's license application found near the officer's body.

Doran's body was found by two Belmont policemen lying face up in front of his police car. His service revolver was missing. He had been shot once through the throat and twice in the body. He is survived by two sons and his wife, who is expecting their third child.

Hillsborough police headquarters last heard from Doran at 4:07 a.m. when he radioed for a check on an automobile license number, SCP 424.

The three men, sought by police, are believed to be driving a light green 1950 Ford.

Sheriff's Capt. John O'Brien of San Mateo said the bloodsmeared application for renewal of a lost driver's license was made out in the name of David Steven Kehoe, San Francisco.

A check found no one of that name living at the address listed on the application. Officers checked other persons named Kehoe in San Francisco and went to the home of Vincent Patrick Kehoe. There they learned that Kehoe, Louis Garcia, and Manuel Febo, were to have left at 2 a.m. to go deer hunting.

O'Brien said Motor Vehicle Department officials in San Francisco recalled the man who filled out an application for renewal of a lost license under the name David Steven Kehoe left hurriedly before having his picture taken and filling out all the papers.

Jurors In Willis Case Still Being Selected

Thirty more prospective jurors were to appear in the superior court of Judge Thomas F. Keating this afternoon as examinations continued of jurors to hear the abortion trial of Dr. Jack Willis and his wife, Josephine, of Mill Valley.

Several persons have been excused for cause, and Dist. Attorney William O. Weissich and Defense Atty. Leslie Gillen each have exercised two peremptory challenges for excusing prospective jurors.

Keating, expressing a fear that all peremptory challenges (each side has 21) might be exercised, decided to call the extra 30-person panel.

Weissich said outside of court that he would be satisfied with the jury as it is. However, if Gillen exercises all his remaining peremptory challenges and Weissich challenges too, it is possible that a selection of a jury will not be accomplished until tomorrow.

Two Receive Jail Terms For Robbery

A Santa Rosa man and a Novato man were sentenced by Judge Thomas F. Keating in Marin Superior Court Monday to county jail terms for their part in the robbery of Joseph Albert Morin, 36, of 10 Brentwood drive, San Rafael.

They were arrested June 26. According to San Rafael police, they admitted taking part in an attack on Morin, who had just returned home from his work as a waiter at the Ondine restaurant in Sausalito.

Raymond Leon Gasser, 20, of Santa Rosa, was given five years probation and a year in the county jail. Luis Hernandez, 18, of 1333 Cambridge street, Novato, was given 60 days in the county jail and five years probation.

A third person involved in the robbery, Robert Wayne Kitzmiller, 23, of 200 Red Hill avenue, San Anselmo, previously was sentenced to state prison.

Wholesale Food Prices Advance

NEW YORK (AP)—Wholesale food prices advanced this week for the first time in five weeks, Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., reported today.

The organization's food index rose to $5.99 from $5.96 last week but was 9.1 per cent below the $6.59 figure in the similar 1958 week.

Fairfax School Budget Adopted

No protests were heard last night to a 1959-60 budget of $357,416 for Fairfax School District and the budget as published was adopted by Trustees Stryker Warren, Jack Uhte and Harlan Hennessy.

The trustees set an organizational meeting on Aug. 26 at 8 p.m. at Manor School for a citizens' committee to work for passage of a tax rate increase on Oct. 20. The board of trustees proposes an increase from $1.25 to $2 per $100 assessed valuation.

New Twin Cities Mail Service To Start On Sunday

A new mail service will be inaugurated Sunday in Larkspur and Corte Madera, it was announced today by postmasters Llewellyn D. Crandall and Edward J. Victor.

For the first time, they said, Sunday collections will be made from street mailboxes. Heretofore, the last weekend collections were on Saturdays between 1 and 2 p.m.

The Sunday pickups will be made between 3 and 4:30 p.m., with the collecting and dispatching job for both cities falling on the Corte Madera Post Office.

Victor said the single dispatch of Sunday mail collections will insure Monday morning delivery within a 150-mile radius.

Group Approves Commerce Chief

The committee acted immediately after a two-hour public hearing.

Mueller's nomination, submitted by President Eisenhower July 21, now goes to the Senate for confirmation—probably tomorrow or Friday.

A former Grand Rapids, Mich., furniture manufacturer, Mueller has been acting secretary of commerce since June 30.

Mill Valley's Budget Goes To Council Tonight

City Manager A. E. Almcrants will present to the Mill Valley City Council tonight a proposed 1959-60 budget totaling $595,359 and calling for a 10-cent increase in the tax rate.

The budget is based on a tax rate of $2.12 per $100 assessed valuation. This would be the highest city tax rate in Marin County. (Mill Valley's $2.02 last year was also the highest.)

THREE FUNDS UP

Almcrants said the budget called for increases in the general fund, library fund and sewer fund. Bond redemption costs would decline, and other funds remain at the same rates as last year.

The general fund tax would go up three cents to 89 cents, the sewer fund tax up five cents and library fund tax, up five cents. Bond redemption costs would decline three cents.

PROGRAMS LISTED

Almcrants listed $85,600 in improvements and land purchases to be financed by sales taxes. These are:

Neighborhood street work, $25,000; Marin Municipal Water District property adjacent to the city hall, $20,000; marshland property for a small craft harbor, $20,000; planting strip on Miller avenue, $15,000; library improvements, $3,500; Boyle Park improvements, $1,350, and Lytton Square planting program, $750.

Almcrants warned that these projects "will utilize all of the existing fund balance plus all of the money that will be forthcoming from sales tax for the next fiscal year."

Ducks Beat Pigeons As Carriers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Was the Army wrong all along in using pigeons as message carriers?

The annual convention of the Assn. of the U. S. Army heard Col. Robert Partridge of the Continental Command explain yesterday problems of keeping technical equipment abreast of requirements.

Then Partridge wound up with this story:

In 1954, the Army mustered out its last message-carrying pigeon after using those birds for a century or more.

Just as this happened, a college professor sent the Army an analysis proving that ducks, not pigeons would have made better message carriers. The professor said ducks could fly farther, had a better homing instinct than pigeons.

And furthermore there would have been a logistic advantage, said the professor.

Ducks consume less seed per mile flown than pigeons.

Board Appoints Speech Consultant

Carmela Mannuzza, a speech consultant of five years' experience in all grades of public schools, was appointed last night by the San Rafael Board of Education to serve all 13 elementary schools of the San Rafael school district.

She was trained at New York University and the College of Newark in Jersey City, being an English and speech major with a master's degree in speech arts and English. Her qualifications allow her to teach from kindergarten through high school.

Miss Mannuzza has had special experience with stammerers and stutterers, in coping with emotional tie-ups of speech difficulties, and in the prevention of speech problems at early ages of pupils, reported Dr. Mildred B. Barnard, director of instruction for the city schools.

"Someone should get a medal for dreaming up that one," says John S. Robinson of 55 Freemont road, San Rafael.

Their enthusiasm is for a yellow jacket trap.

A story on how to build the trap for the pesky patio buzzers — using a board, a hunk of meat and a tub of water—appeared Saturday in the Independent-Journal. The scheme was proposed by Thomas W. Peryam, county agricultural commissioner.

Robinson wrote the I-J to say he caught "either 73 or 74" yellow jackets in six hours. And he didn't even follow instructions very well.

"Not having a board three and one-half inches wide, we used one slightly under three stead of a wash tub we used an old dishpan. Instead of nails we used string to fasten the meat to the board.

"Maybe if we'd followed directions more exactly we'd had better luck, but we are not complaining."

Howell didn't actually try the trap himself. But he sang the praises of "the very efficient system" rigged up by his friends, Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Porterfield of 52 Durham road, San Anselmo.

"They had reluctantly abandoned their prized patio to the buzzing intruders for the summer" when Porterfield read about the trap, Howell said.

"When last seen, the Porterfields were celebrating a triumphant return to the outdoors while smugly counting their floating victims."

The yellow jacket trap was old stuff to Dr. Joseph Levitin of 340 Scenic road, Fairfax. He wrote that he has been using such a trap for 20 years after seeing one at Lake Lagunitas.

He offered a suggestion: "The water must have a wetting agent to wet the yellow jacket; otherwise after a hearty meal they crawl out. Ordinary soapy water is very satisfactory."

For those who may be troubled about yellow jackets and may have missed last Saturday's I-J, here's Peryam's formula:

Fill a wash tub or other container with water to within three and one-half inches from the top. Nail a piece of fish or meat to the under side of a three and one-half inch board and place the board over the tub, with the ends sticking over the edge.

The yellow jackets go after the meat, but when they try to fly away with a piece they dive into the water.

Freak Accident Burns Fisherman

A fisherman alone on his boat off Pt. Reyes suffered extensive burns on his back and left arm yesterday when the boat listed unexpectedly and hot water from his stove flew across the cabin, scorching his upper body.

Joe Fernandez, 23, of Monterey, ran to the deck to let the wind cool his burns, then steered his boat to Fisherman's Wharf in San Francisco. He was given emergency treatment at Harbor Emergency Hospital after his three and one-half hour ordeal.

Fernandez was fishing for salmon near Pt. Reyes.

Board Hears New Appeal On Tax Refund

The Marin County Board of Supervisors, which had set aside half an hour yesterday to hear an appeal from its rejection of 319 claims for refund of taxes, heard a little of it in an hour and learned it will hear quite a bit more before it hears the last of it.

Sausalito attorney A. L. Bjorklund Jr., representing the claimants, appeared before the board with a court reporter and eight law books, informed the board it was sitting in a quasi-judicial capacity, and launched a presentation of legal points to support the contention that his clients are entitled to refunds totaling about $101,000.

The claims contend that the state Board of Equalization's 1955 order raising Marin property assessments 26 per cent "across the board" was illegal.

Included in the complex grounds on which the claims are based is a contention that the state board issued its order after sample appraisals of only 171 parcels of Marin property and that such a small sampling was not adequate to support the order.

Also included is an argument that the order was discriminatory because it applied to secured property assessments but not to unsecured.

The supervisors finally suggested that Bjorklund get together wth County Counsel Leland H. Jordan and work out, as far as they can, legal questions involved in the board's hearing of the appeal.

Reed School Budget Calls For Reduction In Tax Levy

Reed Union School District trustees last night adopted a 1959-60 budget calling for a tax rate drop to approximately $2.04 per $100 assessed valuation. The present rate is $2.10.

The budget expenditures are almost $100,000 over this year's and cover the new post of librarian, six additional teachers, a new vice principal, and more instructional aides, Supt. Paul R. Stouffer said.

The trustees resisted the request from spectators to increase the tax rate to the permitted maximum of $2.25, stating, "We have allocated as much money as we can use efficiently this year."

"It is pleasant to be criticized for not spending enough of the public's money," chairman Richard J. MacLaury said.

Four hours after the budget's adoption Trustees David D. Ring and Mrs. Ahleen Tresnon asked that the maximum $2.25 rate be reconsidered to provide funds for possible purchase of additional acreage on the Del Mar Estates school site.

The suggestion came up after the board had viewed five preliminary planning designs by architects Warren Callister and Martin Rosse for site utilization of the eight-acre 540-student seventh-eighth grade. The architects recommended additional acreage to provide level playing fields for a better physical education program. The buildings would then be built on the slope.

Trustees voted to seek state reaction to the proposition and start negotiations with the developer. Trustee Ring suggested the tax hike instead of selling bonds. But trustees Erwin Farley and MacLaury agreed "the community as a whole would not like to see an increase in the tax rate."

Trustees accepted the bid of Lee Mac Paving Co., Inc. of Corte Madera of $3,995.25 to pave the Reed School playground, lowest of six offers. They also authorized expenditure of $809 for library shelving in the Reed School kindergarten room.

The board: approved a maternity leave for Mrs. Marilyn Franceschini and teaching contracts for Miss Bette Goulet and Miss Patricia Murphy. Miss Goulet will teach kindergarten at Bel Aire School and Miss Murphy either the second or third grade at Bel Aire.

Trustee Alfred J. Azevedo was absent.

Man Cleared Of Beating Tot To Death

OAKLAND (UPI) — A jury of nine men and three women acquitted Robert A. Jamison yesterday of charges he fatally beat his 18-month-old stepson in Alameda two years ago.

The jury returned the verdict after five and one-half hours of deliberation.

Jamison, 21, a former circus roustabout, had contended that the child, Ronald Weber, fell down a flight of stairs and suffered fatal injuries when he tried to administer artificial respiration.

His wife, Nellies, 20, had charged that he beat the child to death for crying. She turned him in last October, a year after the boy's death.

Dinner Ready, Wife Missing

When Richard O. Forseth of Central avenue, Woodacre, came home from work last night he found a baked potato in a warmed oven and a steak set out for cooking.

His wife, Lucille Rose Forseth, 30, was not at home. Thinking she had stepped out to the store, Forseth lay down on the couch and took a nap.

When he awoke Mrs. Forseth still was not there, so he notified the sheriff's office that she was missing.

He told the sheriff's office his wife was to have quit work as a bookkeeper yesterday in San Rafael, and was to start work soon in a cleaning establishment just opened by Forseth in San Francisco.

Lee Mac To Do Gallinas Grading

A bid of $22,503.05 submitted by the Lee Mac Paving Co. for Gallinas Elementary School grading and site work was accepted last night by the San Rafael Board of Education.

It was lowest of five bids submitted. Bids were also opened for purchase of a 37-passenger bus and for fill at the Davidson School, but the board deferred action on both matters pending discussion of details.

AT LEAST HE HAD EXPERIENCE WITH THE LAW

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—Patrolman Conrad Blevins was interviewing Morris Dean Minters yesterday and not making much progress.

It was a routine interview, but Blevins said Minters was evasive.

"I had to drag the answer to every question out of him," the policeman said.

Blevins checked anyway and found that Minters, 27, was wanted in Texas as a parole violator.

What was he doing in the police station? He had heard that the department was trying to recruit 200 policemen, so he applied for a job.

Marin's Entrant Youngest In Fair Queen Contest

At 16, Marin County's choice for the "Maid of California" contest of the California State Fair and Exposition Sept. 2 through 13 turns out to be youngest girl to enter the competition this year.

She is Sandra Lee Lazzari, a senior at Novato High School and already holder of the "Maid of Marin" title as well as queen of Novato Western Weekend. Finalists will be picked Aug. 30 and the winner will be crowned at opening day ceremonies.

Planners Urge Zoning Change In Larkspur

By 4-0 vote last night, the Larkspur Planning Commission recommended that the city council rezone the Robert L. Coleman estate property on Magnolia avenue from commercial to one-family residential.

The council had asked the planners to hold a rezoning hearing after noting the Coleman interests have not developed the four and one-half acres. The land was changed from residential to commercial two years ago over protests of Hillview Gardens residents.

No spokesman for the Coleman interests was present at last night's brief public hearing. Commissioner David B. McDougall was absent.

The planning commission also:

1. Split 2-2 on the request of Paul Von Eichman of Boardwalk No. 1 for front and side yard setback variances to make legal an existing fenced-in deck for his ark. He admitted he was told to obtain a building permit, but failed to do so. The matter now goes to the council.
2. Approved architectural plans for a $30,000 automatic car wash to be built behind the Greenbrae Union Service Station at 501 Sir Francis Drake boulevard. Schultz Co. submitted the plans.
3. Continued to Aug. 18 the petition of Dr. Francis L. Lucchetti for duplex rezoning of property at 1 Eden street.

Sausalito Council Sets Apartment Requirement

Sausalito's City Council gave final passage last night to an ordinance which fixes 1,250 square feet as the minimum land area permissable per new apartment unit constructed in Sausalito.

The figure is a compromise. The planning commission had recommended a minimum of 1,000 square feet.

The council also:

1. Adopted a resolution outlining a statement of principle which in general opposes centralization or consolidation of functions now performed by cities or counties as proposed by the recent Golden Gate Authority plan.
2. Introduced an ordinance establishing 10-minute parking at the new postoffice site and approved boulevard stops on Bridgeway from San Carlos avenue to the north city limits.
3. Adopted an ordinance eliminating a conflict between the building code and the zoning ordinance on building height limits.
4. Set for Sept. 1 a public hearing on abandonment of portions of Marin avenue.
5. Approved retaining Skinner and Hammond to make the city's annual audits for two more years.
6. Received a report from City Manager Donald A. Duerr that in the past year there was not a single lost-time accident among city employees during 61,600 "man-hours exposure." Mayor Howard Sievers commended all department heads.
7. Granted a height limit variance to Bruce Bernhard for apartments now under construction at 134 Bulkley avenue after criticism from council members that such variances should be anticipated prior to construction.
8. Approved a recommendation of the recreation commission that the Turney street launching ramp be widened as soon as materials can be acquired.
9. Approved payments of warrants totaling $18,975.
10. Objected to a proposal by Morden Dunn that the south side of Nevada street, which he owns, leading to his proposed subdivision, be rezoned for commercial use. A subcommittee of Sievers and Councilman Marjorie Brady is to investigate the matter. The council denied Dunn's request that he be relieved of the requirement of placing his subdivision utility lines underground.
11. Postponed appointment of a successor to planning commissioner Richard F. Grambow, resigned.
12. Denied a request by Sam Zakessian for an encroachment permit for an ark on city property at the foot of Litho street.

Treatment Plant At Gallinas Starts Operating Friday

Primary stage operations of the new sewage treatment plant of the Gallinas Village Community Services District will start Friday, it was announced at a meeting of the district board last night.

The full plant will go into operation in 10 days to two week, the board was told, though this means that some of the old units of the previous plant must be used temporarily due to delays in delivery of the new aerator and other parts.

Paul Lygren, civil engineer of Tarrant Construction Co., discussed with the board the possibility of hooking up yet to be built divisions for which sanitary facilities must be provided before construction can begin.

School Tax To Rise At Stinson Beach

Stinson Beach School District trustees last night approved a $24,550 budget for 1959-60 which will require about $5,000 more to be raised from taxes than last year.

Mrs. Blanche Eustis, clerk, said that when the state purchased the state park property at the beach, some $110,000 in assessed valuation was removed from the district's tax rolls. As a result, she said, this year's tax rate will probably be around $1.30 per $100 of assessed valuation. Last year the tax rate was 96 cents.

Trustees noted that this year the district has budgeted $2,340 for its share of a cooperative transportation setup with Bolinas District—a new expense. But if the inter-district arrangement had not been made, they said Stinson Beach would have required one more teacher.

Teacher salaries have been increased and maintenance charges are up, trustees noted.

District income will come $14,500 in taxes, $6,500 in state apportionments, $900 in federal grants, and a carryover balance of $2,653, Mrs. Eustis reported.

EDGAR A. GUEST
Death comes at 77

Verse Writer Edgar Guest Dies In Sleep

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—Edgar A. Guest, verse writer whose works were known to newspaper readers all over the world, died today in his sleep. He would have been 78 Aug. 20.

Cause of death was not determined immediately but physicians indicated he had suffered a cerebral hemorrhage.

At the height of his popularity Guest was among the most widely read man of his time. His name was most frequently associated with the first lines of one of his most famous rhymes: "It takes a heap o' livin' in a house t' make it home."

Guest's daily verse still appeared in the Detroit Free Press and other newspapers up to the time of his death, despite his bad health.

Often called the "poet of the plain people," he preferred to be known as a newspaperman. He was a reporter, exchange editor and a columnist at the Free Press before devoting his life to verse.

At his peak his syndicated daily works appeared in nearly 300 American newspapers. He also produced 17 volumes of verse and for several years appeared on a national radio program.

Guest was born in Birmingham, England, Aug. 20, 1881. He came to Detroit with his family while a boy. After attending public schools here he worked in a drug store before joining the Free Press.

Guest's wife, Ellen, died in 1945. He is survived by a son, Edgar A., and a daughter, Janet.

Little Rock School Opening Set Ahead 3 Weeks

LITTLE ROCK, Ark (AP)—The Little Rock School Board Tuesday night advanced the scheduled opening date for the city's high schools three weeks, then emphatically denied that fear of legislative interference with its integration plan had prompted the move.

The board voted unanimously to open the four high schools, closed for a year against integration, Aug. 12 instead of Sept. 8, when junior high and elementary schools will start their term.

Board president Everett Tucker Jr. said the board is "familiar with rumors that (Gov. Orval E.) Faubus might call the Legislature into session."

"But those rumors had nothing to do with this decision," Tucker said. "The board felt these students, who have been out of the public school system for a year, needed additional time to prepare for resuming their studies."

Planning Matters Top Agenda For Larkspur

The Larkspur City Council will be occupied primarily with planning matters when it meets tonight at 8 in the Larkspur City Hall.

Principal items are the final map of Greenbrae subdivision Unit 12, to be submitted by the Schultz Co., and a request by Dr. and Mrs. Russell J. Merret of Kentfield for a zoning variance.

The Merrets want to construct a building housing a drug store, shops and professional offices on a Magnolia avenue lot opposite Frances avenue.

The council will hold a public hearing on abandonment of a portion of Bon Air road in Hillview Gardens and consider the formation of two assessment districts for street improvement projects.

One assessment district would include portions of Tamalpais, Holly, Orange and Hazel avenues; the other, portions of Oak road and Redwood avenue.

Fighter Squadron At HAFB Gets New Commander Today

Lt. Col. John W. Bennett, 38, today was replaced as commander of the 83rd Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Hamilton Air Force Base by Lt. Col. Robert T. Goetz, 35, a recent graduate of the Air Force Command and Staff School, Maxwell Field, Ala.

Bennett, who has commandedthe 83rd since last August, arrived back at Hamilton Sunday with the squadron of F104 Starfighters that broke several Air Force records at a weapons firing mission at Tyndall Air Force Base, Fla.

Bennett will become the deputy for plans in the chief of interceptor missiles branch of Air Defense Command headquarters at Ent Air Force Base, Colo.

The change in command is a result of "normal rotation," said Maj. Phillip Coady, base information officer.

Man Arraigned In Assault Case

Joseph Gabriel, 52, of San Geronimo, charged with assaulting a Forest Knolls housewife with intent to rape, yesterday was arraigned in Marin Municipal Court.

Bail was set at $1,000. Gabriel had not posted it this morning. He is scheduled to appear in court again Friday to plead to the charge.

When arrested, Gabriel gave his address as the Oak Tree Inn. However, W. J. Rossi, owner of the Oak Tree Inn, declared today that Gabriel has not lived there in more than a year.

Dillon Street Trouble Pinned On Contractor

Everybody involved yesterday disclaimed responsibility for deficiencies in street improvements at Dillon Beach, but the contractor, C and H Construction Co. of Berkeley, was stuck with it after a long discussion before the county board of supervisors.

The responsibility was pinned on the contracting firm because the contract for the work specifically makes the firm responsible for any failures, regardless of cause, until the county accepts the job.

NOT YET ACCEPTED

The job has not yet been accepted.

Marvin W. Brigham, county public works director, joined engineers for the Dillon Beach Assessment District in pointing out that the C and H firm did an excellent job on the roads, fully meeting all requirements of plans and specifications.

The trouble, Brigham noted, is that the roads are built on sand. This was understood when the job was started, he pointed out, and it was never expected that the improvements would be "first class" and up to normal county road standards.

Despite all this, the firm still must repair the portions which have failed, under the wording of the construction contract, the board was advised by County Counsel Leland H. Jordan and Eugene K. Sturgis, attorney for the assessment district.

MAIN TROUBLE

The main trouble has been the collapse of concrete bag riprap on steep slopes. Engineers and contractors agreed the riprap gave way because children scooped sand out from under it.

The supervisors also:

1. Set for 10 a.m. Aug. 25 a public hearing on a proposed addition to work in the Lucky Drive Assessment District. The addition involves a four-barrel culvert under Lucky drive at a cost of about $25,000.

2. Filed a letter from Capt. A. S. Oko of Inverness warmly commending the supervisors for opposing introduction of bills in Congress to authorize a federal seashore recreation area at Pt. Reyes, until results of a feasibility study are known. Oko called the recreation area proposal "an obvious power grab that threatens to clobber Marin."

3. On Jordan's recommendation, rejected a $4,500 claim from Mrs. Ben F. Kriens of 51 Main street, Tiburon, for injuries allegedly incurred when she tripped over a rough spot in the sidewalk along Main street.

4. Approved, subject to conditions imposed by the planning commission, a master plan for Harry Mindle's proposed 14-unit residential development near Kentfield Corners.

SAUSALITO DISPUTE

Barge Owner Scores Victory Over Council

Sausalito's continued dispute with Mrs. Byron Edwards and her two encroaching barges played another comic opera act at last night's city council meeting. Mrs. Edwards again emerged the victory, making the council eat its words.

Longtime observers can't agree on whether her controversy with the city has been running seven or nine years. But she and her husband had been told at the July city council meeting that unless they appeared at last night's meeting with performance bonds, their applications for sewer service, variances and other things would be denied.

It was emphasized that last night was to be the final date.

But, Mrs. Edwards complained last night, her engineer and Sausalito City Engineer John L. Hunter were far apart on their cost estimates of the required work, so she could not get a bond.

She said, too, that when she saw the long agenda for last night's meeting she didn't think the council would want to spend so much time on her matter, so she told her bonding agent and engineer not to show up.

As tempers and voices rose and more actors crowded on stage, Councilman John E. Koenig Jr. moved to deny the application on the grounds the Edwardes had failed to live up to last month's agreement.

"In my four years on the council, I have never seen such procrastination," stormed Koenig.

STALKS FROM ROOM

Above a babble of shouts, pro and con, came the voice of Mrs. Edwards, loud and clear: "I won't listen to this any more. A court of law will decide this."

Turning on her high heel, she made a dramatic, defiant exit. She was gone when Koenig's motion came to vote and he was joined only by Mayor Howard Sievers. Councilmen Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. and Marjorie Brady voted "no," Ehrlich urging "one more chance" to give the Edwardes' bonding agent and engineer a chance to get together with Hunter on costs.

With Councilman George E. Keeney absent and action stalemated, Ehrlich moved to postpone action to the Aug. 18 meeting.

AUDIENCE UNHAPPY

There was a chorus of grumbling from the audience.

And quietly, without the drama of her departure, Mrs. Edwards slipped back into the council room in time to hear the motion for postponement pass with three "yes" votes, Koenig abstaining.

Aug. 18, the council emphasized, will be the final, final, final date for the Edwardes' barges to continue in violation of city ordinances.

Magnolia Ave. Traffic To Be Delayed

Motorists will encounter traffic delays tomorrow in the 700 and 800 blocks of Larkspur's Magnolia avenue, starting point of an approach road the city will build to the new Bon Air Bridge.

Traffic delays of possibly 10 minutes or more will be caused by installation of a new water main by Marin Municipal Water District crews. The line must be installed before work on the bridge road can start.

Larkspur police said there will be one-way traffic at the project site during part of the day, but at other times tomorrow all traffic will be brought to a complete standstill.

Sausalito To Retain Tax Rate Of $1.25

The Sausalito City Council last night formally adopted a resolution approving a budget of $382,500 and setting a tax rate of $1.25 per $100 assessed valuation.

The rate is the same as last year's. It includes $1 for the general fund, 10 cents for library, 10 cents for parks and five cents for retirement.

City Manager Donald A. Duerr told the council that property valuations were slightly less than expected but he believes public utility and sales tax returns will make up the difference.

Mayor Howard Sievers said "that although there has been no decrease in the tax rate, taxpayers will nevertheless be getting a break since the assessing factor will drop from last year's 28 per cent to 25 this year.

Land developer Rob Rose, in the audience, arose to declare: "Council members, City Clerk-Assessor Amelie Smith and City Manager Duerr are to be commended for their excellent job in handling the city's affairs during the past year."

Budget Approved For West Marin

Public hearing was held on a West Marin School District budget of $97,485 and the budget was passed by the district board at a meeting Monday night.

The board discussed the possibility of adding a foreign language to the school curriculum but tabled the proposal pending further investigation by Supt. George Stratton.

It was agreed to continue use of the Presbyterian Church at Point Reyes Station for school purposes until new buildings are ready. Complete plans are not yet available so no new construction schedule has been set as yet.

Teacher Will Direct Fairfax Recreation

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Department gave Thomas J. Kelly a birthday present last night and assured continuance of a city-operated recreation program.

Five members of the commission unanimously voted to hire Kelly, a seventh grade teacher at Manor School, as Fairfax's part-time recreation director at $180 a month, starting Sept. 1.

Yesterday was Kelly's 35th birthday. The teacher and his wife, Margaret Marie, live at 79 San Rafael avenue, San Anselmo.

The park and recreation commissioners headed by chairman Ralph E. Ford have had a difficult time finding a permanent replacement for James Gallagher, who resigned May 30.

Michael Davlin of Fairfax, 31-year-old teacher and coach at Marin Catholic High School, accepted the position beginning June 1 and then discovered that "unanticipated additional duties at the high school" would prevent his working as recreation director. The recreation commission then hired Miss Jean Hancock, a teacher, who had worked last summer under Gallagher, as summer recreation director.

The commission's recomendation that Kelly be hired to take over Sept. 1 will be presented to the Fairfax City Council when it meets at 8 p.m. Monday.

Miss Hancock reports at last night's meeting that 188 youngsters are registered in the summer recreation program centered at Fairfax Pavilion. Special excursions include a visit to the aquarium in San Francisco, an outing to Samuel P. Taylor State Park today, and seeing the Ice Follies next week.

New park and recreation commissioner William L. Brown, a ranger at Samuel P. Tayor State Park, and a coauthor with his wife of children's books, attended his first meeting last night. Absent were Commissioners Larry Walsh Jr. and Phil Colla.

Dillon Beach Water Rate Hearing Set

Proposed new water rates for the 127 consumers at Dillon Beach and Portola Beach will be the subject of a public hearing scheduled by the state Public Utilities Commission on Aug. 13 at 10:30 a.m. in the dining hall, Pacific Marine Station, Dillon Beach.

Lawrence Romeo Vanoni, owner of the Coast Springs Water Co. of Dillon Beach, is asking approval for a $36 a year service charge plus 40 cents for every 100 cubic feet of water delivered.

At present water consumers are charged $33 a year minimum and are allowed 400 cubic feet a month without extra charge.

The next 2,100 cubic feet of water used each month now costs 50 cents per 100 cubic feet; the next 12,500 cubic feet 30 cents per 100 cubic feet; and over 15,000 cubic feet 15 cents per 100 cubic feet.

Examiner John K. Powell will preside at the Aug. 13 hearing. All interested parties may appear and be heard.

Shark Nibbles On Boat But Doesn't Like It

TRINIDAD (UPI)—Fishermen today were looking for a shark which decided to add a little iron to its diet.

A 16-foot shark attacked the fishing boat Corregidor Monday in Trinidad Bay, Humboldt County. The fish dived 15 feet below the surface and bit off a steel stabilizer which hung from the craft to cut down roll.

While operator George Collins and his party watched dumbfounded, the shark rose to the surface, spit out the 35 pound stabilizer, and swam away.

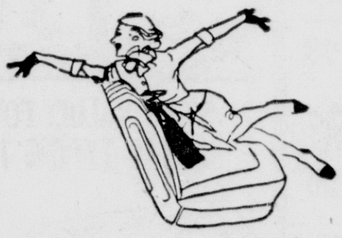
A Carnation QUALITY PRODUCT

WHY DO WITHOUT A LITTLE LUXURY LIKE THIS...

Chevy's the only car of the leading low-priced three that gives you the convenience of crank-operated vent windows. No awkward latches to fumble with . . . your knuckles and fingernails will appreciate it.

LET ALONE THESE BIG CHEVY VIRTUES!



greater roominess

Automobile Manufacturers Association records carry the facts on this. In a Chevy sedan, for example, you've got more front seat head room than all but one of the high-priced cars! And Chevy's front seat hip room spreads up to 5.9 inches wider than comparable cars.

full coil ride

You're the expert on ride, so you'll want to try Chevy's easygoing smoothness for yourself. MOTOR TREND magazine can give you a hint of what you're in for: ". . . the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class." And Full Coil springs, of course, never squeak, never need grease.

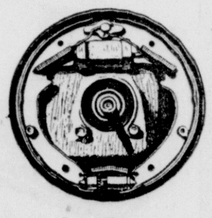
bigger savings

Here's solid proof that Chevrolet squeezes more miles out of a gallon: In the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, two Chevrolet sixes with Powerglide took the first two places in their class, averaging 22.38 miles per gallon. And that, friends, won top honors for Chevy from every full-sized car!

higher trade-in

N.A.D.A.* Guide Books prove that your Chevrolet will keep its value. Chevy used car prices last year, for example, averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the other two cars in Chevrolet's field.

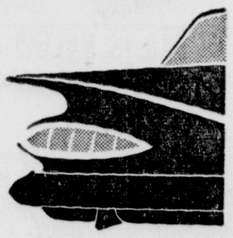
*National Automobile Dealers Association.



bigger brakes

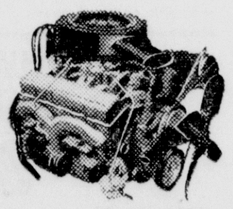
Bigger, yes, and built with bonded linings for as much as 66% longer life. And how's this for proof that Chevy's a real stopper: in a NASCAR*-conducted test of repeated stops from highway speeds, Chevrolet outstopped both of the "other two" time after time.

*National Association for Stock Car Advancement and Research



fresh styling

POPULAR SCIENCE magazine gave Chevy's styling a thoughtful look, then said it this way: "In its price class, Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling . . ." You'll find your own happy way of saying that Chevy's the only unmistakably modern car in its class.



award-winning engines

The NASCAR Outstanding Achievement award goes to Chevrolet! Chevy wins for "the creation and continuing development of America's most efficient V-type engines . . . for the establishment of new levels of V8 compactness combined with outstanding smoothness." And you can choose among eight V8's and the Six that won the Mobilgas Economy Run for its class.

Bon Air SUPER

IT'S EASY TO SHOP AT BON AIR

We sometimes put so much emphasis on the quality of our food and that at Bon Air reasonable prices it means such a valuable savings to your budget—that it takes a customer to remind us of another important asset in shopping at Bon Air. One of our San Anselmo shoppers tells us that she can actually leave her home and drive to Bon Air and park in less time than to travel to markets nearer her home. It's true—when you consider that Bon Air is in the heart of Marin. Only a few minutes drive on either of Marin's two main traffic thoroughfares (Highway 101 and Sir Francis Drake Blvd.) give a fast, less congested trip. Bon Air's huge parking lot means immediate parking and though our crowds are often larger—wide aisles and plenty of check stands make for speedier shopping than most other markets in Marin. If you enjoy the convenience of easy shopping you'll like Bon Air.

New Housing Bill Heads For Senate

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new housing bill headed toward the Senate today with Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) contending its $1,050,000,000 cost is a rock bottom figure.

The housing subcommittee which Sparkman heads wrote the measure in an effort to get omnibus housing legislation this year which President Eisenhower will sign.

If its provisions are accepted, Sparkman said, there should be no need for another major housing bill next year.

The total was well under the $1,375,000,000 in the bill Eisenhower vetoed June 7. But it still contained bigger authorizations than the 810 million dollars asked by the President.

The new bill also contained more public housing, a new program of loans for college classrooms, and direct government loans for housing for the elderly—all items which Eisenhower had asked to be eliminated entirely.

Sparkman said he and Sen. Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.), senior Republican on the subcommittee, had agreed that the new bill should be approved by the full banking committee, the Senate, the House and the President.

Sparkman said he expects it to reach the Senate floor next week.

Sen. Prescott Bush (R-Conn.), told reporters he would offer some amendments in the committee to try to get the measure more in line with the President's recommendations.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.), said the rewritten bill "certainly is a long way from representing the high hopes for decent housing legislation we had in January, but it is considerably better than no bill at all."

The subcommittee wrote the new bill after voting 5-4 not to recommend an attemp to override Eisenhower's veto of the earlier measure.

NEW LAW MAY MEAN TROUBLE FOR ASSESSORS

SACRAMENTO (AP) —California's county assessors have been warned to expect some new complaints about property taxes next year.

The state Board of Equalization predicted yesterday that a new law requiring publication of assessment data for each county will bring a flood of new complaints from the taxpayers.

Assessment ratios — the average percentage of market value an assessor says property is worth for tax purposes — now are secret.

The figures will have to be made public starting Sept. 1, 1960, under a new state law.

A legislative committee found the ratio varies from 23 to 27 per cent from county to county.

Hurricane Expected To Miss Most Of Hawaii

HONOLULU (UPI) — The U.S. Weather Bureau said today that Hurricane Dot would probably swing far enough south to miss most of the island chain of Hawaii.

The bureau said the storm was moving about 14 miles an hour and was picking up speed. It was expected to pass 180 miles south of Honolulu early today, and 100 miles south-southwest of Port Allen on Kauai tonight.

Full gale warnings were still in effect over much of the 50th state, although the intensity of the storm lessened slightly yesterday.

South Point on Hawaii island reported last night that it was getting winds of 35 miles an hour, with gusts up to 50 m.p.h. The weather observatory on Mauna Loa recorded winds of 50 m.p.h. with gusts up to 70 m.p.h.

Hilo, the largest city on Hawaii, had only 20 mile an hour winds.

Heavy ground swells and high tides were forecast for the south sides of the island chain where damage to boat harbors was possible, the weather bureau said.

High winds and dense fog hindered traffic between Honolulu and the windward side of Oahu last night.

San Mateo Bridge Crash Takes Life

SAN MATEO (AP)—A crash on the San Mateo-Hayward Bridge across San Francisco Bay last night killed a South San Francisco man, injured six other persons and closed the bridge to traffic for more than two hours.

Kotz A. Lawson, 39, South San Francisco, was killed. His infant daughter, Brenda, and hsi wife, Vioet, 30, were taken to Mills Memorial Hospital in serious condition. Three other Lawson daughters were less seriously hurt.

Hoffa Retorts To Probers' New Charges

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Rackets Committee today leveled new charges against Teamster president James R. Hoffa. The committee got an angry retort from the labor leader on charges issued yesterday.

In the stinging report, the Senate investigators charged that Hoffa would destroy the American labor movement unless his power is curbed.

It also declared that the "continuing tie-up" between Hoffa and the underworld threatens to put gangsters and hoodlums in a position to dominate American economic life.

RED TIES CLAIMED

The committee further charged that Hoffa has formed, or is attempting to form, alliance with elements of communism, as well as crime.

Hoffa, informed of the committee's charges, snapped: "To hell with them."

"I'll place my record of achievements for the workers beside the record of Jack Kennedy (Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) or Bob Kennedy (committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy) anytime," he said. "This is another attempt to get a headline in Jack Kennedy's campaign for president at my expense."

The committee made the charges in the first section of an interim report based on investigations in 1958. Other sections will be made public shortly.

BETRAYAL CHARGED

The report said Hoffa has betrayed his own union members so often it has become absolutely clear that his "chief interest is in his own advancement and that of his friends and cronies — a great number of whom are racketeers."

"In the history of the country," the report said, "it would be hard to find a labor leader who has so shamefully abused his members of his trust."

New Fire Blackening Plumas County Timber

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

A new blaze flared in a Northern California forest today while a huge brush fire roared uncontrolled over more than 10,000 acres 80 miles east of Los Angeles.

Firemen controlled five other timber fires but still expected more trouble. California had less snow than usual last winter, the forests are tinder dry and the next rains are not due for months.

The brush fire at Crestline near Lake Arrowhead in Southern California was slowing but still jumped ahead of 1,500 men trying to get lines around its 25-mile perimeter.

Fire bosses said "the outlook definitely is not good" as flames licked toward several ranch houses and gangs of men tried to keep it out of an almost inaccessible canyon northeast of Deep Creek. "If the fire gets in there, it'll take another week at least before we could control it," one official said.

The new fire broke out yesterday 33 miles north of Quincy in Plumas County, 175 miles northeast of San Francisco. It burned two unoccupied ranger buildings near Lights Creek and ruined 800 acres of timber.

Eight converted Navy fighter planes and a modified B25 bomber bombed it with borate, a solution that smothers flames. Some 300 men on the ground tried to encircle the two-mile blaze.

Other men were called from nearby blazes that were considered under control.

Borate bombing had slowed the Crestline fire also but gusts of wind undid a lot of that work.

Elwood Stone, forest service investigator, said that Crestline fire was maliciously set Sunday.

Controlled were fires in the Feather River Canyon, at Hough Mountain west of Quincy, near Harris in Northern California's Humboldt County and near Yosemite National Park.

The Feather River blaze had covered 1,500 acres. Some 40 acres were ruined at Hough Mountain before borate planes stopped it. A total of 1,400 acres of fir and slash were ruined at Harris.

Embers were being watched in the two blazes near Yosemite—at Briceberg and Nelson's Cove.

Man Sentenced On Two Counts

Paul Humphries, 38, of 1419 Buchanan street, Novato, yesterday received a suspended sentence, was fined $250 for drunken driving, and was fined $25 for being a lewd and dissolute person.

Appearing in Marin Municipal Court, Humphries was sentenced for drunken driving June 9. The sentence also included being placed on probation for three years. The court also ordered him to be placed under psychiatric care.

On the lewd charge, he was also given three years probation, and his fine suspended if he complies with the conditions set forth in his drunken driving sentence.

Group Preparing Report On Youth

The Marin County Committee for the White House Conference on Children and Youth is preparing a report on present-day values that cause conflict and frustration in youth, Dr. Virgil S. Hollis, committee chairman, said today.

He asked that Marin adults and young people mail their views to the Marin Council of Community Services, 820 Fifth avenue, San Rafael.

Expansion Of Coleman School Wins Approval

Approval of a plan to close Watt avenue beside the Coleman School and buy six-tenths of an acre from the Dominican Convent for school expansion was unanimously voted by the San Rafael Board of Education last night.

Instructions were given to complete final steps, primarily a purchase agreement already tentatively negotiated with the convent, in time to put a package proposal before the next meeting of the San Rafael City Council Aug. 17.

C. Paul Bettini, board chairman, expressed the board's appreciation of the work of a committee of parents, present with about 25 supporters.

BUDGETS APPROVED

These actions were taken after the board had unanimously and without discussion voted final approval of school budgets amounting to $1,745,900 for the San Rafael Elementary School District and $1,570,625 for the San Rafael High School District.

Lengthy but obviously final discussion of the Coleman School problem preceded the board decisions, which had been foreshadowed by word that the convent is prepared to sell the necessary land, and the city council would close part of Watt avenue if the school district would construct a cul de sac turn-around at the street end and make necessary arrangements about a power line and other utilities.

Roderick P. Martinelli of the board and Richard V. Bettini, representing a parents' group, reported on these matters reassuringly.

WILLING TO SELL

Martinelli said Mother Justin, mother general of the Dominican Sisters in San Rafael, had expressed a willingness to sell the six-tenths acre on a basis of price to be determined by appraisal. It was indicated that this appraised value worked out at around $15,000.

Costs of moving power lines will be borne by Pacific Gas and Electric Co., rather than the school district, it was reported. Construction of the required Watt avenue turnaround was described as a minor expense.

Figures were submitted for all aspects of the possible expansion programs at both the Coleman site and on Mission avenue near the high school.

Totaled, these worked out to a potential outlay for everything from ground to completed structures of $209,390 for the Coleman site and $236,060 for that on Mission.

'MATTER OF POLICY'

Paul Bettini as board chairman summarized that clearly there must be school expansion, adequate sites were available, and the decision was "a matter of policy for the board."

Board member Willard Vernon, noted that the Coleman street project would cost less than to proceed on Mission.

Further discussion brought out that, in view of potential school attendance, it will probably be necessary to build in both areas soon, so the current decision was mainly a matter of timing.

Martinelli framed the required resolutions for survey, description and title report to go before the next city council meeting, as well as the seeking of final purchase agreement with Mother Justin on a basis of appraisal. The board approved unanimously.

"We deeply appreciate the work of the citizens committee," said chairman Bettini. "This board will try to give you a new property as soon as possible."

Mrs. Charles Strom, on behalf of the Coleman parents committee, today issued a statement saying: "The parents committee would like to publicly thank Mother Justin and the Dominican Sisters for their generosity and understanding. They have considered the land as a school site and asked comparatively little for it, considering what it might bring if developed for home sites. The parents committee is deeply appreciative of their assistance."

Rape, Drug Suspect To Face Court

Sausalito bartender Rabun Delmore Sape, 23, of Muir Woods Park, has been held to answer on rape and narcotic charges involving a 16-year-old San Anselmo girl.

Sape appeared yesterday before Judge Harold J. Haley in Marin municipal court, where he previously had pleaded innocent to charges of supplying a minor with marijuana, statutory rape and two counts of possession of narcotics.

He was held to answer on all four charges, and is scheduled to appear either next Monday or Aug. 17 in superior court for arraignment.

He was arrested June 30 at his home at 490 Camino del Canyon road.

He was one of several suspects arrested in a rape-narcotics investigation.

Among others arrested were Felipe Janiaud, 19, an artist of 703 Bridgeway, Sausalito, and Emil Pfeiffer, a pipe fitter, also of Sausalito.

Janiaud was charged with statutory rape and possession of narcotics, and Pfeiffer was arrested on suspicion of possession of narcotics.

Janiaud was due to appear in superior court Monday but the case was continued to Aug. 24 so the probation department could continue its investigation. He was to be sentenced for contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Drink With Kick

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Frank Barto, concessionaire at an amusement park, was working late and got thirsty. He dropped a dime into the soft drink machine. Nothing happened, so he banged it with his fist. A shotgun blast was the response, the pellets inflicting superficial wounds on Barto's head, shoulder and back. John W. Stewart, the park owner, said he heard the noise and though burglars were looting the machine.

Giants Seek Solution To Infield Woes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A San Francisco fan stood after his Giants lost to Milwaukee 6-1 and played a mournful, but appropriate tune - - - Taps.

It wasn't so much that his team lost last night and dropped out of first place. It was how—five errors in the first six innings and there were also several glaring lapses afield that didn't get into the record book.

It was almost as if the fan's playing had been piped into the Giant dressing room. All was dejection.

"Well, they've caught us now," said Manager Bill Rigney. "We've got to do something." He was referring to the Braves' rise to first place, a percentage point ahead of his club.

Just what is to be done, Rigney wouldn't say, but it was obvious that third and first base were involved.

Orlando Cepeda, the Giants' regular and hard hitting first baseman, was anything but adequate at third, where he was moved to make room for Willie McCovey, a rookie who played key roles in the just-ended Giant four-game victory streak.

McCovey was no glove ace either.

Neither he nor the Puerto Rican was talking.

Cepeda, National League rookie of the year in 1958, threw one grounder into the dugout. He also missed Joe Adcock's hit in the fifth which accounted for one run and set up another. Many thought he should have had it.

In the seventh, Hank Aaron beat out a single when Cepeda took his hopper and made no play. He thought it was foul. It wasn't.

McCOVEY ERRS

McCovey made one error and was away from his base on several key plays.

Rigney was asked how winner Warren Spahn pitched McCovey who got one of three hits. "I'm not worried about McCovey," Rigney answered. "How did he pitch those other guys."

Mike McCormick, who went the first six innings and gave up six hits, lost his ninth game in 19 decisions. He made two of the errors.

Del Crandall's 13th homer off Gordon Jones in the eighth was good for two runs.

A packed house of 22,959 in Seals Stadium saw McCormick pitch himself out of a rough first inning by striking out cleanup hitter Joe Adcock and Johnny Logan after a run scored on Felix Mantilla's single, McCormick's error and a swinging bunt by Aaron that went for a single when McCovey failed to cover first.

The Braves got another in the third on Cepeda's error and McCormick's second miscue, and a force out.

GREAT CATCH

The only bright spot was Willie Mays' fine running catch, with his back to home plate, of Logan's fly which carried 402 feet.

But Mays at the plate walked, grounded out twice and flied out to continue in a slump that's dropped his batting average to .291.

The Giants run came on walks to Felipe Alou, Cepeda and Willie Kirkland's double in the ninth.

While the Braves were winning the opener of this important three-game series, Los Angeles was blowing a chance to take over first place.

Vada Pinson hit a two-run homer and lefty Joe Nuxhall allowed only three hits in beating the Dodgers who led momentarily in the first inning on Wally Moon's ninth home run. Pinson connected for No. 15 over the left field screen during the three-run third. Roy McMillan walked, took third on Nuxhall's double and scored on Johnny Temple's sacrifice fly. Then came Pinson's blow that hung defeat No. 5 on Stan Williams. Jerry Lynch also homered in the eighth off Roger Craig.

BREAKS JINX

Nuxhall was the first lefthander to start against the Dodgers and beat them in their Coliseum this season.

Pittsburgh's Vern Law subdued St. Louis 7-3 despite home runs by Stan Musial and George Crowe. The Pirates routed loser Bob Gibson in the three-run fifth after scoring three times in the first inning. It was Law's 12th victory and Gibson's first defeat since he was brought up from the Omaha farm club.

Harry Anderson's two-run double provided Robin Roberts with enough runs for Philadelphia's 2-1 margin over Chicago in the only day game. Roberts 10th victory of the season was the 216th of his brilliant career.

N.Y. Launches Probe Into Heavy Title Go Promotion

NEW YORK (UPI)—Investigations by the District Attorney's office and the New York State Athletic Commission were being made today into the strange "promotional activities" that surrounded the Ingemar Johansson-Floyd Patterson heavyweight title fight, June 26.

Ex-Promoter Bill Rosensohn had another date today at the offices of District Attorney Frank Hoga, who disclosed last night that his men and the "boxing grand jury" had been investigating "the activities of Rosensohn and his associates" since July 23.

Krulewitch was uncertain whether commission hearings would be scheduled before the district attorney and grand jury had finished their inquiry.

However, one thing did seem certain—that the investigations would kill any chance of the return Johansson-Patterson fight being staged this year. Before Rosensohn resigned as promoter on Monday, the fight had been tentatively scheduled for Yankee Stadium, Sept. 22.

Both Hogan and Krulewitch emphasized that they were N-O-T investigating the fight itself, in which Johansson wrested the crown from Patterson on a third round knockout. They were exploring only the activities of men connected with the promotion — "in any way."

An old-timer at the D.A.'s office said he believed this was the first official investigation in ring history of a promotion without involving the fight.

Mrs. Evans Wins Golf Tournament At Indian Valley

Mrs. Jerry Evans, who used only 26 putts on 18 greens, won the Indian Valley Women's Golf Club's "Odd or Even" tournament yesterday.

Mrs. Evans had a net score of 31. Mrs. William Sparrow was second with 31½ and Mrs. Richard Alcorn third with 32½.

Liston 12-5 Choice Over Nino Valdes

CHICAGO (UPI) — Sonny Liston, one of the brighter young heavyweight prospects, risks his 17-fight winning streak on television tonight against an aging trial horse, Nino Valdes, who's been battling for 18 years.

Liston, beaten only once in 25 pro fights, was a 12 to 5 favorite to whip his Cuban rival and improve his chance of moving into a title fight against Sweden's Ingemar Johansson. Liston has knocked out 15 opponents.

Liston this month was advanced from fourth ranked heavyweight to third ranked by the National Boxing Assn., chiefly on his knockout victories over Mike De John and Cleveland Williams in his last two outings. These were his only fights this year.

The Philadelphia scrapper was confident that he could beat Valdes and perhaps help his claim for a title bout even more, but he said he'd not take any chances against the 34-year-old Havana fighter.

"I know he's got more experience than me," Liston said, "but I'm going to try to get him before his experience does him any good. I got to respect him, because you got to be particular with all of them."

Valdes has had 67 fights and has won 48 of them, 35 by knockouts. But he has lost 13 decisions and has been knocked out four times.

Liston's only defeat was a split decision against Marty Marshall Sept. 7, 1954, and he avenged this twice, with a six-round knockout the following year and a 10-round decision in 1956.

JACK HANLEY'S REPORT

L. A. Diamond Proves O'Malley A Genius

By JACK HANLEY
I-J Correspondent

That screeno monstrosity in the Los Angeles Coliseum is coming down this month!

Wait a second before jumping to any conclusions. It will be just a temporary removal for the first football game down south.

Up again it will go for the baseball games. Not only the left field screeno, but the right field fence that stretches in a curving line to left center, thus forming the outfield boundaries in the cavernous Coliseum, also will be removed for the football games.

And there is another little item that will need attention. That is the pitcher's mound. Football players could break their neck, back or a leg running up the mound into a vicious tackle.

For all of this removal and reconstruction work during August and September when football and baseball overlap, Walter O'Malley will be presented with tidy bills of $2,500 per job, that is $2,500 to take the stuff down and another $2,500 to put it up again.

So the baseball players are not the only ones interested in when the Dodgers' new Chavez Ravine home will be opened. O'Malley is, too, but for different reasons.

ALTHOUGH TV viewers watching the second All-Star game could not see the screen they got a fairly accurate picture of what it must look like when the cameras panned out to left field and pin-pointed the 40-foot high cross bar and the 60-foot support poles.

Lazy flies of 250 feet, clearing the cross bar, are homers in the Coliseum. Frank Robinson and Junior Gilliam hit a pair of them in the second meeting of the American and National League representatives.

The homer Yogi Berra hit over the right field fence, which resembles the kind of a six-foot wire mesh enclosure so common in back yards, was an authentic poke of about 370 feet. So was Rocky Colavito's blow over the left field screeno.

CONSIDERABLE criticism has been aimed at the Coliseum drawbacks as a baseball field. But it was the only place big enough to accommodate the growing thousands of new Dodger fans in Los Angeles. Wrigley Field, the old Pacific Coast League ball park not far distant from the Coliseum, couldn't handle them.

Everything considered, O'Malley did a remarkable job in converting a football field into a baseball diamond. In fact, it was nothing short of fantastic and still difficult to believe. No doubt about it, the man is a genius.

O'Malley put the finest surveyors available on the job for two reasons. First, he wanted to be sure there was strict compliance with major league rules specifying a minimum of 250 feet between home plate and either of the outfield foul line limits. Second, he certainly didn't want to be put to any additional Coliseum conversion expenses, i.e., ripping out and then replacing several rows of seats embedded in rather substantial looking concrete.

WE PERSONALLY have never stepped off the distance between home plate and the end of the left field foul line and have no intention of doing so because we think walking should be confined to a golf course.

But every time we look at that foul line we have a feeling of great admiration for O'Malley's surveyors.

It must be the tightest 250 feet any surveyor ever dropped a plumb line on.

Folley Gets Off Deck To Win Nod

Folley weighed 198½, King 203.

Sets Turnout Date

FRESNO (UPI)—New Fresno State College football coach Cecil Coleman today issued a call for prospective gridders to report for practice Sept. 1.

About 60 athletes are expected to report for the drills. There will be 22 returning lettermen and about 15 junior college transfers.

Soldiers Win Softball Title On No-Hitter

Presidio Army team from San Francisco, marching behind the no-hit pitching of Sergeant Ed Johnson, last night won the San Rafael Softball League's "A" Division championship with a 6-0 triumph over the 28th Air Division of Hamilton Air Force Base.

Sgt. Johnson barely missed hurling a "perfect" game when he walked a batter in the second inning. That was Hamilton's only baserunner as the soldiers player errorless ball behind their pitcher.

Sgt. Fred Vivani was the game's hitting star with a triple and single, scoring two runs.

The game, played at Albert Field, was a playoff of co-champions. Hamilton had won the first half of the league's split schedule while Presidio took the second half title.

The death rate from tuberculosis among the civilian population of Hawaii was 3.1 per 100,000 in 1957, the latest year for which figures are available, a decrease of more than 50 per cent since 1950 and about 95 per cent since 1940.

SNIDOW TO START ON NORTH DEFENSE

Marin County's two gifts to the North-South Shrine Football Classic in Los Angeles should see considerable action in the eighth annual presentation Friday night, according to reports from the North training camp.

Snidow, the 203-pound titan in San Rafael's championship team last fall, northern California's lineman of the year, state discus champion, among other honors, was listed as starting left tackle on the North's defensive lineup in a release this morning from Shrine headquarters.

Although Sparrow was not listed as a starter, the lanky offensive star has sparkled in recent practice sessions and undoubtedly will see considerable action, the Los Angeles report stated.

Snidow, considered by many as the best all-around athlete in San Rafael High School history, will attend the University of Oregon in September while Sparrow, a football, basketball and baseball star, will attend College of Pacific.

Meanwhile, the North was picked today as a six-point favorite to beat the South Friday night at the Coliseum.

Oddsmakers said the North's rugged line plus its hard-running, college-sized backs would probably outweigh the South's speed and passing advantage. The South leads in the series, 4-2. Last year's game ended in an 8-8 draw.

SAN RAFAEL CHAMPS FOR FOURTH STRAIGHT YEAR

Brown-Ely, Native Son Ponies Win

Brown-Ely and the Native Sons teams were the winners in the San Rafael Pony League round-robin tournament held last weekend at Albert Field.

In Sunday's finals, the first game found the Native Sons and Optimists, league co-champs, meeting for the 13-14 year old title. The game was a tight one until the fifth inning, when the score tied 2-2, the Native Sons exploded for four runs, and, adding six more in the seventh, wrapped it up 12-4. Mike Hammerman drove in five runs with three hits, and Fred Framsted also had three.

Steve Hasse turned in a smooth four-hit pitching performance, striking out 11. The Native Sons beat the Elks 6-3, and the Optimists nosed out the Athletics 14-13 in Friday's games.

In the nightcap Brown-Ely, regular season champs, met Northbridge Builders for the 15-16 year old division crown. Billy Wilson's bases loaded double drove in the three runs that were to comprise all of his team's scoring. Northbridge scored twice and threatened to tie it up or go ahead several times, but Artie Quinn, Brown-Ely's ace left hander, though often in trouble, was strong in the clutch. The game reached its climax in the seventh and last inning, when, with two out, the count three and two and the tying run on third, Quinn blazed a strike past the batter to close out a 3-2 victory. Mike Osborne pitched well for the losers.

Northbridge had beaten American Legion 11-10, and Brown-Ely had defeated Hendrickson's Builders 7-5 in Saturday's semi-finals.

Trophies were presented to the members of the winning teams and to the managers Ernie Bray of Brown-Ely and Jim Hasse of the Native Sons. Joe Anselmo manages the Northbridge team and Bill Misakian pilots the Optimists.

Marin Giant Fans To Rally

Marin Lodge 1327 of B'nai B'rith has scheduled a Marin County Baseball Rally for tomorrow night to boost the San Francisco Giants on in their bid for the National League pennant.

The event will be held at 8:30 p.m. at the Marin Jewish Community Center, Mission and Forbes streets, according to Phil Ruby, lodge president.

Al Goldberg is the chairman for the rally.

He says representatives of the Giants, including Walter (the Great) Mails, will attend.

Mails from the Giants' public relations office will give fans attending the rally the facts about the new Candlestick Point stadium.

The visiting Giant representatives are also slated to discuss the chances of their hopefuls to make the 1959 World Series and to relate little-known facts about some of the Giant stars.

The visitors will also bring with them motion pictures of the 1958 World Series between the New York Yankees and the Milwaukee Braves.

There will be no admission charge for the rally.

Giants fans of all ages and both sexes are invited to attend.

Refreshments will be served after the program.

Host Juniors Reach Finals Of Own Meet

San Anselmo's Junior Leaguers are definitely in the finals of their first annual invitational all-star baseball tournament.

Tonight they learn just who they will meet in Sunday's championship clash.

The Presidio of San Francisco takes on the North Marin all-stars at 6 p.m. today in San Anselmo Memorial Park. The winner will advance to the finals, to be played Sunday at 5:30 p.m.

San Anselmo reached the finals by walloping the Fairfax all-stars 12-6 in the tournament opener Monday.

Jim Zell was the Hub City starting hurler and was credited with the win. He picked up a pair of hits as did teammates Phil Hiaring and Larry Aguilar.

Three of the four Fairfax hits were collected by John Odetto.

San Anselmo scored three times in the first inning, once in the second, four in the fourth, and four in the fifth.

Fairfax did all its scoring in two-run bursts, in the second, third and seventh stanzas.

In the tournament's Little League competition last night two Hamilton Air Force Base teams won their way into finals.

The Hamilton major league team downed San Anselmo, 7-1 while the air base's minor division all-stars outlasted the Fairfax-Sleepy Hollow American Leaguers, 11-10.

CONNOLLY

Johnny Antonelli's recent outburst that Seals Stadium is "the lousiest ball park in the major leagues" only serves to point up one pertinent fact: Too many professional baseball players are cry babies and "Alibi Ikes."

The San Francisco Giant's southpaw made his gripe after he had lost to the Los Angeles Dodgers on two wind-blown pop flies that settled into the left field pavilion for "cheap" home runs. A few days later Johnny lost another one to the Philadelphia Phillies on home runs by Ed Bouchee and Gene Freese.

This time no wind was blowing and Antonelli's alibi blew up in his face. For obvious reasons, Johnny did not stick around after the game for a press conference. Could be his delicate ears were still burning from hearing Giant fans calling him "Windy."

Antonelli apparently refuses to believe statistics that show he allows more home runs per season than most major league pitchers and chooses to blame the ball park.

Just for fun, let's take a last long look at Seals Stadium before it becomes just another piece of real estate. The distance from home plate to the right field bleachers is 355 feet, farther than any other park in the National League.

FROM RIGHT FIELD Seals Stadium deepens into a center field depth of 410 feet. Only Chicago and Cincinnati have shorter center fields — but how many home runs have you seen lofted over the scoreboard at the present home of the Giants?

Moving to the left field pavilion at the stadium we find the distance to be 365 feet, again farther than any other park in the National League. Granted that Seals Stadium has made the "jet stream" famous, pitchers tend to forget that the wind that usually blows from home plate to the pavilion blows for both teams.

It would be refreshing some day to hear a losing pitcher say "Boy, was I lousy today! I sure fed 'em some fat 'gopher balls' and deserved to have my ears pinned back." Instead it is the wind, teammates errors, umpires, or sore arms.

Infielders who make costly errors blame the groundskeeper for fields that are too hard, too soft, too dry or too wet. Outfielders stumble into gopher holes, sprinklers or long blades of grass.

And for great dramatic performances nothing quite equals the performance of the slugger who looks over a beautifully pitched fast ball over the heart of the plate for a called third strike. His look of anguish as he turns his unbelieving eyes on the plate umpire would outdo anything you will ever see at the Curran or Geary theaters.

ONE OF THESE days our Giants are going to have to move to new quarters at Candlestick Park and they will have to improve their play or dig up a new set of alibis. We'll give odds on which choice they make.

Sure, sure, we all have our own sets of alibis — but most of us aren't paid from $20,000 to $80,000 for thinking them up.

And sometimes we get a little tired of hearing the current crop of players looking down their noses at San Francisco, its fans and its Seals Stadium. Since before most of these cry babies were born we have seen as good or better players and teams perform in our fair city by the bay.

FEWER FOWL OVER STATE THIS FALL

SACRAMENTO (UPI) —California sportsmen will find fewer ducks and Canada geese flapping over state waterways this fall.

The prediction came this week from William E. Warne, director of the state Department of Fish and Game. Warne blamed dry weather for the decrease and said the weather had damaged breeding places.

Champs Crowned In 4-Square Event

Six champions have been selected from 55 boys and girls who participated in a San Rafael city-wide event called "Four-Square Tournament" conducted by the Recreation and Park Department and centering around a ball-bounce game in four squares of the playground pavement.

The champions are: Boys 8 and under, Richard Britting of Albert Field; boys 10 and under, Laurin Bruck of Coleman School; boys 12 and under, Barry Growt, Santa Venetia; girls 8 and under, Kathy Velvish, Gerstle Park; girls 10 and under Susan Laufer, Santa Venetia; girls 12 and under, Coleen Lush, Santa Venetia.

Fleet To Visit Petaluma For Fair Program

More than 25 power cruisers will arrive in Petaluma Harbor Saturday, where their crews will visit the Sonoma-Marin Fair for the final two days of the annual four-day event.

John Gudelj, vice-commodore of the Sausalito Cruising Club, informed the Petaluma Chamber of Commerce harbor committee of the plans by Sam Schneider, of Belvedere, commodore of the fleet, and members of the cruising club.

For the cruise to the Sonoma-Marin Fair, the Sausalito fleet will be joined by boats coming from Sacramento, Napa, Antioch, and other clubs.

The Bay Area boats will rendezvous off the mouth of the Petaluma River with boats coming from up river. All boats congregated at the rendezvous point will enter Petaluma River as a flotilla in single file formation.

The estimated time of arrival at the new Petaluma Harbor float is 1 p.m. Saturday. The visiting "sailors" will tie at the new float until 2 p.m. Sunday, departure time. In the interim, all fleet members will visit the Sonoma-Marin Fair, witness the downtown fair parade, and enjoy a meal of barbecued chicken at the Chick-N-Que served in the shaded picnic area at the fairgrounds.

The public is invited to visit the docking area to see and visit the fleet while it is in port.

Sports Shop Wins Sixth Straight Li'l League Title

Pounding out 26 hits and taking full advantage of nine walks and 10 errors, the Taveggia-Brusatti Sports Shop team last night clinched its sixth consecutive San Rafael American League championship with a 35-10 victory over Cerutti Brothers.

It was T and B's second straight win in the best of three-game series between the league's co-champions.

Mark Maas led the champions to their rout with six hits, including two homers. Tom Untermann, Bob Milani and Brad Litchfield each contributed four hits while Jim Kilgore and Mark Leveroni each had three safeties.

Winning pitcher was 10-year-old Paul Giampoli.

Leading hitters for the losers were Mike Sandusky and Ray Menjou each with three hits and Barry Hachmyer and Rocky Shone with two apiece.

Amish Half Moon Pie Is Really Mammoth Fresh Pear Turnover

There's a trick to rolling out this mammoth turnover, but the reward in praise is well worth the trouble. Make up pastry for a double crust 9-inch pie. Chill thoroughly. Now core and slice 6 medium-sized fresh pears.

Mix with ¾ cup sugar, 2 tablespoons flour, the rind and juice of ½ lemon and a dash of salt. Lightly stir in ½ pint creamed cottage cheese. If you like a spicy pie, sprinkle with cinnamon and nutmeg.

To roll out the pastry: Put a large sheet of waxed paper under a cookie sheet, extending about 12 inches beyond the sheet. Sprinkle with flour. Now roll out pastry in one big circle, half on the cookie sheet and half on the waxed paper.

Top the cookie sheet half with the pear mixture; dot with butter or margarine and carefully fold over other half (use corners of waxed paper to pull pastry over). Crimp edges. Prick to allow steam to escape. Bake in hot oven (425°) 40 to 45 minutes or until crust is golden.

Ice Cream? Make Own Party Vanilla

4 eggs
¼ cup sugar
½ cup corn syrup
Few grains salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
Dash nutmeg
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

Set refrigerator cold control for fast freezing. Using rotary or electric beater, beat eggs in large bowl until light and frothy. Add sugar and beat for about 1 minute. Add corn syrup and beat until mixture is well blended. Stir in salt, vanilla and nutmeg.

Whip cream with rotary beater until still. Fold into egg mixture. Pour into refrigerator freezing tray; freeze until almost firm, about 45 minutes.

Turn mixture into chilled bowl. Cut into small pieces with spoon; then beat with rotary beater until smooth. Work quickly to avoid melting. Return to freezing tray and freeze until firm. Set control between fast and normal for storage. Makes 1 quart. Double recipe if needed.

Turkey Leftovers Are Never Problem

The wonderful thing about serving turkey is that leftovers are no problem. Turkey can be served in any way chicken is served and practically every part of the turkey but the gobble is valuable.

There is absolutely no need for any turkey to go to waste. Unserved turkey or portions not attractive enough for serving may be used in appetizing left over recipes.

The carcass and bits of leftover turkey can be used in cream of turkey soup. Leftover turkey meat can be sliced for hot or cold sandwiches.

Turkey liver can be used in salads or on toast and giblets in sauces, gravies, or with rice on toast.

Turkey cubes or chunks can be used in pies, salads, casseroles, chop suey, dumplings, and a number of other dishes.

For Better Caramel

Making caramel syrup for custard or some other use? Add boiling rather than cold water to the melted sugar to have as little spattering as possible.

Curried Rice With Onion

2 Spanish onions, sliced thick
2 cups boiling water
3 cups cooked rice
½ cup light cream
½ teaspoon curry powder
Dash of nutmeg
¼ teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons melted butter

Cook sliced onions in boiling water for 5 minutes. Drain onions well, combine with remaining ingredients and place in greased 1-quart casserole.

Palate Teaser Is Fresh Plum Whip

¾ pound (5) fresh plums
¼ cup water
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
½ cup sugar
2 egg whites

Wash plums. Place in saucepan with the water. Cover. Cook gently until tender (20 to 25 minutes). Push through a sieve and measure 1 cup puree. Cool. Stir in lemon rind and ¼ cup sugar. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks. Gradually beat in the remaining ¼ cup sugar and carefully fold into the plum puree. Pile lightly in sherbet glasses. Top with a slice of fresh plum.

YIELD: 4 servings.

Onion Soup

Boil fresh baby white onions in concentrated beef bouillon or consomme on the thermostatically heat controlled top burner. A bit of butter or margarine is all the further seasonings needed for wonderful flavor.

Better Shortcakes

Next time you make biscuit for shortcake, try sprinkling the top of the dough, before it goes in the oven, with sugar and cinnamon.

Perfect Frosting

Add a couple of teaspoons of orange juice and some grated orange rind to currant jelly and use as a filling between white cake layers.

Radish Roses

Throw some ice cubes into the water in which radish roses are reposing in the refrigerator; helps make the radishes deliciously crisp.

BROCHETTE BALMY—There are some that think you have to be a little bit daffy to do up a kabob of character. Others follow some formula to the last mushroom cap. Whichever your proclivity, rest assured that when properly assembled, above abstract composition will evolve into a traditional Brochetta alla Romana (alias Italian kabob).

DAMASCUS, ROME, DJAKARTA

Charcoal-Broiled Brochettes Are An International Tradition

The brochette of tender meat skewered with vegetables and sweetened fruits, broiled over a charcoal fire, forms an international cuisine . . . from the imperial Russian Shashlik — great chunks of fat mutton laid down many days in oil and wine and borne on flaming swords to the table—to the delicately spiced and curried sasaties of the Dutch Indies and South Africa.

3 pounds boned lamb or pork shoulder or beef chuck, cut in 1½ inch cubes

Seasoned meat tenderizer

Sprinkle meat cubes evenly on all surfaces with seasoned meat tenderizer, as you would salt; do not add salt.

Pierce cubes deeply on all surfaces with sharp fork to insure penetration and seal in juices.

Drain sauce and reserve for basting.

Alternate meat with other foods on skewers; do not overcrowd, allowing for even browning. When using bacon strips, weave in and out on skewers.

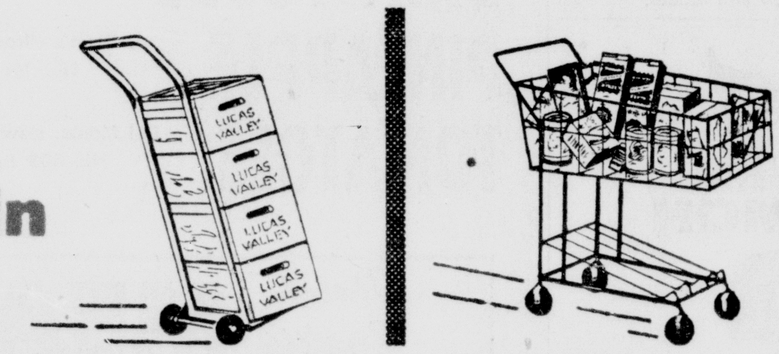
Barbecue on grill set 4 inches above hot charcoals, turning and basting often. Follow our grilling times faithfully; the meat tenderizer cuts cooking—an dshrinkage—by 25 per cent. An added treat for any of these recipes is to put canned pineapple chunks on the skewer about 3 minutes before serving. You may also set skewers in broiler or use any rotisserie spit.

Take Your Pick

When you are offering cheese with fresh fruit, have two varieties: one a mild cheese such as cream cheese or Edam, another a strong cheese such as Roquefort or Camembert.

Better Waffle Irons

Even waffle irons have changed! Nowadays many models have preheated non-stick grids and do not need to be "treated" before using.



Enjoy the extra freshness of

MARIN'S FASTEST-SELLING MILK

PEARS (the extra-juicy fresh Bartletts are at peak-season now) with a tart dressing and a few slices of cold meat and cheese make a refreshing summer antipasto. Or use the same good combination for a snack or cool luncheon salad.

Blue Cheese On Lamb Chops Is Unusual But Tangy For Guests

Broiled Lamb Chops—Blue Cheese Topping may sound like a most unusual combination . . . in one sense it is.

We are all undoubtedly familiar with blue cheese served as an appetizer or salad booster but now this nippy flavored cheese proves its food compatibility in another field . . . that of meat cookery.

This blue cheese topping is simply a combination of blue cheese, green onions, salt, pepper and margarine.

The lamb shoulder chops are broiled on one side, seasoned, turned and broiled on the second side until almost done. The chops are removed, spread with the cheese mixture and returned to the broiler for about 2 minutes or until the cheese is lightly browned.

For those friends who are continually searching for new ideas pertaining to meat cookery, simply prepare this recipe once and watch them mentally tuck the idea away for future use.

- 6 lamb shoulder chops, cut ¾ to 1 inch thick
- ½ cup blue cheese, firmly packed
- 2 tablespoons sliced green onions
- ⅛ teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper
- 2 tablespoons softened butter or margarine

Set regulator for broiling. Place chops on broiler rack. Insert broiler pan and rack so the top of the chops is 3 inches from the heat. Broil first side until browned, about 8 minutes, turn and brown second side, about 4 minutes. Combine cheese, onion, salt, pepper and butter or margarine. Spread about 2 tablespoons of cheese mixture evenly over each chop. Continue broiling 2 minutes or until cheese is lightly browned. Yield: 6 servings.

Here's A Cheese Cake Recipe You'll Be Proud To Exchange

With every one making cheese cake and exchanging recipes, here is one that you can exchange with the best of them. It is baked, then chilled. Will keep well if properly refrigerated. Generous, it will make 12 servings.

Californians top this with lightly whipped sour cream for that special touch.

- 1½ cups zweiback crumbs
- 1¼ cups sugar
- ⅓ cup melted butter
- 2 cups cottage cheese
- ½ cup sifted flour
- 6 eggs
- ¾ cup whipping cream
- ¼ teaspoon salt
- Juice and grated rind of 1 lemon
- 1 teaspoon vanilla extract
- ½ pint sour cream

Combine crumbs, ¼ cup sugar and melted butter. Line bottom and sides of buttered 8-inch spring mold pan with mixture. Sieve cottage cheese through fine sieve. Add flour and mix well. Beat eggs until light and fluffy. Gradually add remaining 1 cup sugar. Combine with cheese mixture. Add cream, salt, lemon juice and rind. Pour into crumb-lined mold.

Bake in moderate, 350 degree, oven, 1 hour or until set. Do not open oven door during baking time. Turn off heat; allow cake to cool 1 hour in oven with door open. Chill before serving. Top lightly with whipped sour cream, if you like.

For another distinctive dessert, cover cheese cake with layer of lightly sugared berries before topping with sour cream.

Cake Baking Tip

You can use ungreased wrapping paper for lining the bottom of a cake pan in which cake batter (made from a mix) is to be baked.

Cantaloupe—Cottage Cheese Salad Just Right For Dieters

We know a young woman who lost a lot of undesirable weight, managed to "diet in quiet" and gives much of the credit for this happy miracle to her lunch hour menu: cantaloupe and cottage cheese. She found she could eat it every day without tiring of it.

Calorie counting is easy. Half a 5-inch melon has a mere 37 calories and protein-packed cottage cheese, not creamed, has 110 calories to the half cup.

Counting calories or not, this cantaloupe-cottage cheese salad will please 6 persons.

- 3 fresh cantaloupes
- 2 cups cottage cheese
- 1 cup berries in season
- 1 cup fresh pineapple wedges
- Fresh mint
- Salad dressing, optional

Wash chilled cantaloupe. Cut in half lengthwise or crosswise as you like and scoop out the seeds. Drain. Fill cavity with cottage cheese and surround it with fresh berries and pineapple wedges or other seasonal fruit. Garnish with mint and pass your favorite salad dressing for taking or leaving.

Persian Salad

For a colorful salad plate, arrange slices of seedless oranges and slices of sweet onion on each plate, with black olives, preferably the Greek olives which have been put up in brine. For the dressing, use pure Spanish olive oil with about ¼ teaspoon of salt and a dash of cayenne pepper to 3 tablespoons of oil. No vinegar needed.

Salt And Pepper

When you are refurbishing your table service, acquire enough small salt and pepper shakers so that there's a set for every two diners.

Patio Supper Rolls Make Savory Change

If you've run through your sandwich repertoire right in the middle of the picnic season, you'll enjoy this new version of a hot sandwich. It's recommendations? A savory filling of cheese and ham with California sauterne to blend the flavors; hollowed-out rolls to make serving and eating more convenient; a simple system of heating the rolls in waxed paper or foil.

PATIO SUPPER ROLLS
(Serves 6 to 8)

- 1 (8-oz.) package process American or Cheddar cheese
- 12 pimiento-stuffed olives
- 1 small onion
- 1 cup ground or minced, cooked ham or canned luncheon meat
- 4 tablespoons sauterne or sherry wine
- 3 tablespoons salad oil
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- 6 large or 8 medium-sized French rolls

Put cheese, olives and onion through the food grinder. Combine these ingredients with the ham, wine, salad oil and Worcestershire sauce; blend thoroughly. Cut a thin lengthwise slice from the top of each roll; hollow out the inside to form a shell. Fill hollowed-out rolls with the ham-cheese mixture; replace tops.

Wrap each roll securely in waxed paper or foil. Arrange wrapped rolls on a cooky sheet or in a shallow baking pan; bake in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees F.) for 20 to 25 minutes. Remove paper and serve piping hot.

Color It!

Dress It Up

Use minced scallions (green onions) to pep up tuna or chicken salad; be sure to add some of the green tops.

Jack Stevens Weds Fredricka Mendoza

St. Paul's Church in San Rafael was the setting for the wedding of Fredricka Mendoza and John Edwin Stevens on Saturday afternoon with the Rev. Henry King officiating. The 3 o'clock ceremony was followed by a reception at the San Rafael home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elliott Stevens. Attending were relatives and a few close friends. After honeymooning at Carmel Highlands, the young couple will reside in a San Francisco apartment.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Juan Mendoza of Dexter, Maine. The father, a Peruvian, was in the diplomatic service. He was assigned to posts in South America, Europe and in this country. The new Mrs. Stevens, who has one sister, Rose, is a graduate of Walnut Hill preparatory school in Massachusetts and of Mt. Vernon Junior College in Washington, D. C.

Jack, as the new benedict is known, is a member of a prominent pioneer family of Marin. His great grandfather, Charles Stevens, a grand master of the Masonic Lodge, laid the cornerstone of the Marin County courthouse. A great uncle, Edwin Stevens, was the famous actor.

Jack has three brothers, Charles Stevens of San Francisco, William Stevens, who recently moved with his wife and three children to Chicago, Ill. where he is doing atomic research, and Moreland Stevens, a student at San Jose State College.

The bridegroom, a graduate of San Rafael High School and the University of Utah, where he was a Lambda Chi Alpha, is with an advertising agency in San Francisco.

For the wedding, the bride wore a white taffeta gown with a lace yoke. Her white lace mantilla was a family heirloom. White roses were in her shower bouquet. Nancy Pawle of Boston, Mass., maid of honor, wore an emerald green irridescent taffeta gown. Her bouquet was white bouvardia. Charles Stevens was his brother's best man and Moreland Stevens was the usher. Going away, the bride wore a sage green suit with matching veil.

The group also makes a nice array of nightwear for children six to 16, which will be much in demand when the 60th Annual Sunny Hills Grape Festival is held on Saturday, Oct. 3.

FASHION FOCUS

450 See Ice Follies Costumes Preview At Tuesday Luncheon

The fabulous costume wardrobe for the Ice Follies of 1960 — the brilliant result of the imagination of one of the nation's most gifted and artistic costume designers, Renie, was seen publicly for the first time on Tuesday at Rickey's fashion luncheon.

Lithe, young and lovely Ice Follietes themselves modeled a selected group of the 1960 costume creations that must be as fresh and crisp next June when they arrive back in San Francisco as they did on Tuesday for the preview.

Such costume elegance, fall fashion on ice, was an interesting and effective contrast to fall fashion off-the-ice, casual elegance, that is the season's most important look.

Each look completely delighted more than 450 guests who lunched under the oaks, beneath bright umbrellas around the pool and in the canopied lanai and dining rooms with the costume and casual elegance paraded informally among the tables; its beauty of fabric, color and styling even more outstanding when seen at close range.

Appropriately titled, "Break The Ice For Fall," Fashion Focus honored the Officers' Wives Club of Hamilton Air Force Base for its far reaching program of welfare and community service in Marin, and lived up to its promise of a fashion spectacular.

IN THE SALUTE

Joining in the salute to Hamilton and its Officers' Wives Club were celebrated personalities from the Ice Follies including Janet Champion, the remarkable 13-year-old skating sensation; Carol Simpson, San Rafael's pretty contribution to the Ice Follietes; Eddie Shipstad, one of the producers; Mrs. Oscar Johnson, wife of another producer, and 14 of the 32 Ice Follietes, the most famed precision skating team in the world.

At show time, Marion Bellamy, Fashion Focus coordinator, welcomed the guests and introduced "Casual Elegance," fall fashion off the ice, modeled by eight Officers' Wives Club members, highlighted by:

"The Davidow Suit," men's-wear gray wool; 12-gore skirt to walk easily under a trim waist length jacket, Mrs. Joseph Lyle Jr., the model; "The Reversible Coat," black and white tweed tuxedo coat to do an instant change to red, underneath, David Crystal's black wool jersey town dress to accessorize for day or evening, Mrs. Richard Tompkins to show it.

"The Plaid Skirt," imported from Scotland, gray and cherry the color duo for Mrs. Thomas Fisher, plus a cherry Braemar cashmere cardigan; "The Leather Jacket," Rhoda Pack's impeccably tailored creamy beige leather over slim, imported wool tapers for Mrs. Robert Margison.

"The Knit," newest in bone colored wool, elasticized waist, deep V neck, Mrs. Hugh A. Parker the attractive model; "The Separates," reversible Haymaker orange, sage and brown pleated skirt plus Braemar V-necked beige cashmere pull-on; Mrs. Benjamin Cassidy modeling.

"The Sheath," golden olive and white checked by House of Lords in Vyella, a blend of wool and cotton, for Mrs. James Winberry; "The Little Black Dress," important in cotton knit, a big collar, double row of buttons on the bodice, news notes for Mrs. Benjamin Battle.

"Costume Elegance" on ice.

Much laughter as Inky Dinky, saucy and sassy bear, cavorted among the tables to introduce the Ice Follies costumes (inside the costume it was a cool 140 degrees, but it didn't daunt the spirits of the bear!)

Glittering jewels, thousands of hand-sewn sequins, feathers and furs made the Renie costumes so completely brilliant and extraordinary.

Enhancing each costume, the poise, beauty and flair of each Ice Follietes whose radiant smiles and pretty faces will be remembered by the Tuesday guests for a long time.

To pick a few favorites, the spectacular black and white ballet gown from the Ice Follies of 1960 opening ballet, thousands of brilliants glittering in the mid-day sun; the imaginative costuming for the scrub brush and the soap bubble stepping out of a children's sequence "Scrub - A - Dub - Dub"; from Alaska, USA, the can-can costume of a dance hall hostess, a study in red and black.

As a finale, the magnificent ball gowns that will be the International Fashions for Richard Dwyer's Glamour Girls on Ice in 1960 drew audible sighs of delight from the audience; the full length, full-skirted gowns a symphony in yellow and blue and a testimony to the designing genius of Renie.

It's a good thing that

Tide keeps on working after other suds have quit!

Sooner or later other suds tire out in your washer. They slow down . . . quit. But Tide keeps on working after other suds have quit. Tide is tireless.

If you've seen the test (left) on TV, you know just how hard Tide works. It keeps on eating up dirt long after the other suds are all . . . tired . . . out.

And doesn't it make sense that the one that works the hardest is the one that gets your wash the cleanest?

Wear 'n Discard

CHICAGO (UPI)— Disposable paper clothes from a coin vending machine will appear in the "not too distant future," predicts a Chicago product development firm.

Paper clothes provide more variations in both styles and color. And they will be cheap enough to be thrown away after one day's wearing, said A. G. Dreis, president of the firm.

Dreis didn't say what the consumer would wear until he gets to the vending machine in the morning.

PARISIAN COPIES TO BE ON U.S. MARKET IN SEPTEMBER

PARIS (UPI)—Fall fashions introduced by the big Paris designers last week will be available on department store racks for $8.95 and up within six weeks, an American buyer said today.

Rita Perna, fashion coordinator for a big U. S. mail order-department store chain, said the new Paris styles will be mass-produced as quickly as they are custom-copied for $100 and up.

In both cases, the dresses will be available about mid-September.

The buying team headed by Miss Perna has just shopped the world's fanciest dress shows for American women who can afford neither trips to Paris nor Paris originals.

Most American department store buyers, who have just sized up the Paris fall and winter collections, will take home originals costing $600 and up to be copied line for line.

This means that the American woman will have by mid-September a fairly faithful adaptation of the originals which will be shipped from Paris at the end of August. The prices of these line-for-line adaptations run into hundreds of dollars by the time they appear in the better dress departments of retail stores.

By mid-September, Miss Perna said, retail stores will have a small selection of Paris coats for less than $100, suits for less than $50 and dresses starting at $8.95.

QUESTION

The Knee Or Not The Knee?

The knee or not the knee — that's no question to Tamara, young San Francisco designer whose collection of party "dressies" revealed the long hidden knee caps some weeks before Dior's Saint-Laurent pulled the wraps off them in Paris.

Tamara's creations which include models for late afternoon, evening wear and even a wedding gown, bring the knees out in the open from the limbo which they've occupied ever since the "flapper" days of the twenties.

Tamara, whose bare kneelines were accepted without question by the San Francisco smart set for whom she designs, said: "Women think that knees are ugly, but men don't mind looking at them — quite the contrary." She added, "Designers should concern themselves with the man's point of view. That's what Saint-Laurent of Dior was doing in his new collection. He must be just as sick and tired of covering up women as I am.

YOUNG MODERNS

Teenagers Quiz On Visiting Etiquette

By VIVIAN BROWN

Q. "Is it proper to visit a boy's home for a weekend?" asks a 16-year-old-girl, who explains her question is prompted because of Dad's opposition. "My mother says it is all right, but my father is in a real tizzy over the deal. He says it would be okay if we were engaged. The boy is 17 years old. What do you think?"

A. This is a problem that must be worked out between your parents. If the girl's parents are acquainted with the boy's parents, the idea usually meets with their approval. Why not get the boy to ask his father to have a talk with your father? Perhaps the objections could be ironed out in that conversation.

GUEST RULES

Q. "I am spending two weeks with my girl friend's family at the seashore. My mother says that I must help the girl's mother. Is it necessary to help with dishes? Should I make my own bed, and sweep my own room? Should I offer to help with other household chores?" a Chicago girl writes.

A. It's a good idea to settle something about chores on your arrival at the home. Even older people are at loose ends about this matter, all because the hostess does not come right out and say that she'd like to have help. Ask her point blank to tell you what she would like to have you do each day, then there will be no conflict on that score. Most hostesses feel you are not doing enough no matter what you do, so if you can get her on record for certain chores she should not complain. It will clear the air for you, and you will feel free to go and come as you please and sit down comfortably even when the hostess is slaving away.

IT ALL TAKES MONEY—Here's an aerial view of part of Harbor freeway in Los Angeles, looking in a southerly direction. Third Street bridges appear in foreground. Despite motor vehicle registration fees, weight fees, operators and chauffeurs' fees that produce about 188 million dollars, despite gasoline and diesel taxes, state Division of Highways officials say their road building program may be destroyed because of lack of federal aid. (AP Wirephoto)

STATE IS WORRIED

Lack Of Federal Aid Perils Road-Building

By PAUL FINCH

SACRAMENTO (AP)—The state Division of Highways, despite the fattest pocketbook of any California agency, is worried about money.

Division officials say the giant road building program, encouraged to grow by generous boosts in federal aid two years ago, may now be destroyed by lack of it.

A two and one-half billion-dollar federal aid bill has bogged down because Congress has balked at President Eisenhower's proposed gas tax increase from three cents to four and one-half cents.

Eisenhower insists on a pay-as-you-go program while Congressional leaders are holding out for loans from the general fund or a bond issue.

"We don't care who wins . . . but we need that money," says J. W. Vickrey, deputy chief engineer of the division.

If federal aid dies "the damage would be very serious, both from the immediate and long-range standpoint," says Robert Bradford, director of public works. He said 50 million dollars in highway contracts should have been let already this year.

Bids could be asked almost immediately on multi-million dollar sections of the Golden State, San Diego, Santa Monica and the San Bernardino freeways, if the aid bill were passed.

Congress increased California's share of the national interstate apportionments from less than 6 per cent to almost 10 per cent in 1957. Aid on primary, secondary and urban roads must be matched by 42 per cent of state funds.

Federal aid was 302 million dollars of the total state highway budget of 610 million dollars this year. Two years ago, for example, the federal sum was 142 million dollars in a total state road budget of 446 million.

Officials have no complaints on the state level, however: The 1959 Legislature, which can't touch the budget adopted by the state Highway Commission, readily agreed to retain the six-cent-a-gallon gas tax.

It was scheduled to drop by ½ cent this year but now will continue to produce 300 million dollars a year. State highways get 200 million; the rest goes for city and county streets and roads.

Motor vehicle registration fees, weight fees, operators and chauffeurs fees produce another 188 million dollars. Highway Patrol and Department of Motor Vehicles operations get shares of this, leaving 55 million for state highways.

All of the 20 million dollars from the diesel tax of seven cents a gallon goes to the highway fund, as well as the transportation tax revenue of about 10 million.

Efforts to change the split of highway construction money, set at 55 per cent for the 13 southern counties and 45 per cent for the 45 northern counties, failed in the last Legislature.

But if the federal deadlock isn't resolved the whole state will lose 250 million dollars next year.

Misdemeanor Holding Time Law Clarified

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk has issued a legal opinion clarifying the length of time a prisoner may be held on a misdemeanor warrant.

His ruling, announced yesterday, concerns warrants from counties other than those in which the prisoner is held.

"If the defendant is given an opportunity to post bail before a magistrate and cannot or does not, he may be held as long as five days while his transfer to another county is being arranged," said Mosk. "If he is not given opportunity to post bail in the county of his arrest, the defendant must be transferred within 48 hours."

The ruling was requested by the district attorneys of San Joaquin and Sacramento counties after Los Angeles Police Chief William H. Parker said he could not service warrants north of Fresno or San Luis Obispo because of time restrictions.

Sutton School In Novato Ready By Mid-August

The new $304,818 Lu Sutton School in Novato, due to have been completed last Friday, according to contract terms, was still not finished today, but is expected to be complete by Aug. 15, said William J. J. Smith, superintendent of the Novato Unified School District.

"It is virtually complete now," he said, "and we expect to be able to move furniture in by mid-August. There will be no delay in the opening of the school in September."

The school, with 12 regular classrooms, a kindergarten, a library, one special classroom and an administration office, is being built by Reynolds Construction Co. of Santa Rosa. It is expected to have a beginning enrollment of 425 children — near capacity for the kindergarten - through - sixth grade school.

SERVING ALL OF MARIN COUNTY

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Marin Must Change Way It Elects County School Board

Last month a law passed by the state Legislature in 1957 became effective. The new law solves one county school problem by giving us another one.

Involved is the County Board of Education. In Marin, we have a seven-member board elected by the people of the county at large for three-year terms. At least one member of the board must reside in each of the county's five trustees areas. The other two can live anywhere in Marin.

This became an issue in the recent election, you remember, when the county counsel ruled that a trustee elected as a representative of a trustee area did not hold that status if another member of the board lives in the same area.

The new law eliminates this problem for Marin by forcing us to change our method of electing the county board. Under the new law, by next March we must elect all of our trustees by districts, only one to each district, and for four-year terms.

As you can see, that means a major overhaul of our election system. We must decide whether we're going to overhaul of our election system. We must decide whether we're going to redivide the county into seven trustee areas, or whether we are going to elect a five man board of education. In either case, there will be no more voting at large, only by districts.

If the county is redistricted into seven areas, each must be, according to the law, "as nearly equal in population as may be, except giving consideration to topography, geography, cohesiveness, contiguity, integrity and compactness and community of interest." That's quite a few "excepts."

In addition, there are some complications about terms of office. Under the four-year terms, elections would be on the second Tuesday in April (instead of May as now) in odd numbered years.

The new law provides for trustees whose terms end in 1960. They get another year to 1961. But nothing is mentioned about the trustees who were elected this year for three years. Their terms expire in 1962 when there is no election. Probably the Legislature next year will have to solve this problem.

How do we go about solving our problem now?

The first step is up to the present Board of Education. It can request the County Committee on School District Organization to redistrict the county. That committee must have a two thirds vote in favor of changing any or all of the trustee area boundaries before anything can be done.

Thus far the county school board hasn't gotten around to making the request of the county committee. We hope they do it soon enough so that the committee can give the matter proper study and not be forced to come up with a last minute decision just before the deadline next March.

NATO: Solid Shield (On Paper) With No Offense

By BEM PRICE

A reporter touring Allied commands, however, finds it difficult to believe the Allies could muster more than 250,000 troops, some indifferently equipped, against an attack.

Under NATO police this land force would meet any Soviet aggression as close to the frontiers of the 750-mile long Iron Curtain as possible and hold them there until the rest of Europe could mobilize.

In discussing NATO policy, a briefing officer at Supreme Headquarters, Allied Powers, Europe (SHAPE), said, "we have no offensive plans at this headquarters." In response to a question, he added, "We do have counter-offensive plans."

The job of these 21⅓ divisions is to guard the three main invasion routes into the heart of NATO from the east — the North European plain, the Mittelgebirge Gap in central Germany and the Danube Valley in the south.

The shield force consists on paper of five U.S. divisions, four from the United Kingdom, two from France, seven from Germany, two from Belgium and one from the Netherlands, plus one-third of a Canadian division.

But paper strength does not win battles. How many of these division actually are ready for modern combat?

Gen. Jean-Etienne Valluy, who has been a French soldier for 42 of his 60 years, is commander in chief of the Allied forces in central Europe with headquarters at Fontainebleau.

In an interview, Gen. Valluy said that if he had to undertake a land war in Europe tomorrow there would be three divisions he could not commit immediately — one each from France, Belgium and the Netherlands.

Could the British really muster four divisions? "The British could muster three," Valluy replied.

The general then was asked, "Do all the divisions assigned to your command really exist?" After a moment's reflection, Valluy said, "All the divisions exist but not at full strength."

Thus by Valluy's reckoning the shield force for central Europe now is 17 combat divisions ready for action, but that is not the whole story.

THE SEVEN GERMAN divisions exist, but four are essentially training divisions. The other three are heavily armored, highly mobile units of 9,000 to 10,000 men each.

If the German training divisions are removed from the list of the combat-fit units, Valluy's land forces are reduced to 13⅓ divisions, but again that is not the whole story.

Gen. Valluy noted that the British and Belgian forces contain large numbers of foot soldiers. In these days of atomic battlefield weapons and mechanization, the walking soldier may be an anachronism.

VALLUY WAS asked what he considered his major problem. "My main fear and worry is the feeling of moral disengagement some nations seem to have toward NATO."

In February 1957, Britain formally advised her allies that a strained economy was forcing her to reduce her NATO commitment in Germany from 80,000 troops to 50,000. France notified NATO of a similar intention.

Gen. Lauris Norstad, SHAPE commander, called the cuts dangerous.

Aside from the economic angle, Britain said she felt the devolpment of missiles and rockets had reduced the manpower needs of NATO.

As for the French, nearly all of the nation's first line troops are committed to the suppression of the Algerian rebellion. Once France had five divisions in the NATO shield. Now she has two — neither at full strength, according to an American source.

ALL THIS BOILS down to a single hard fact: there seem to be precisely eight divisions now in the NATO shield which are full strength, well-equipped and highly trained for atomic warfare — five U.S. divisions and three German.

If Norstad is going to get the 30 divisions he says he needs, even on paper, the West Germans will have to build five additional divisions in record time. The German goal is 12 divisions. Further, the French will have to return at least four divisions from Algeria.

Valluy was asked what sort of action he contemplated if a war began.

"I don't contemplate a purely conventional war," he replied. "I can foresee a tactical atomic action. I don't think we should go to all-out war immediately. I think we can pass from the conventional to the tactical atomic — and stop half way through."

WHAT DOES the NATO shield face?

Western military men say: there are 20 Soviet divisions in East Germany alone — 400,000 men. In addition, there are seven East German divisions, 95,000 men, 14 Polish division, 280,000 men and 14 Czechoslovakian divisions of 170,000 men.

In all, the Soviets have about 175 divisions, 160 of which are stationed west of the Ural Mountains. Soviet divisions range in size from 13,000 to 15,000 men. A standard U.S. division contains 14,500 men.

Intelligence reports indicate the Soviets maintain all their active divisions at somewhere between 65 and 75 per cent of wartime strength.

THERE ARE published U.S. estimates that the Soviets have 4,000 of their medium T54 tanks in East Germany. Current intelligence estimates place the number at between 5,000 and 6,000 tanks.

The T54, incidentally, outguns the U.S. M48 Patton medium tank. The T54 packs a 100 mm. gun on a low frame. The Patton has a 90 mm. gun on a high silhouette.

While the number of tanks available to the Allies is classified, an educated guess is that the Soviet and satellite nation tank forces outnumber those of the allies about three to one.

YOUTH BY THE MILLIONS

There are more than 61 million young people in the United States under the age of 18 right now. And the number is increasing every year.

We hear much about the small portion of youths who become involved in various forms of juvenile delinquency. But too little is said about the many others who are a credit to the home, church and school.

Help youth to bring out in a positive way their power for good. You can thus prevent them from settling for mediocrity and all the deadening results that plague those who have no greater ambition in life than seeking material security and comfort for themselves.

These millions of young people are too important to let them drift through life without developing the bit of greatness God put in every one of them.

Any effort that you personally make to stimulate boys and girls to develop their powers of heart, mind and soul can have long-range results, even into eternity.

"Let thy heart be in that which is good in the days of thy youth, and walk in the ways of thy heart." (Ecclesiastes 11:9)

Grant us the wisdom, O Holy Spirit, to measure up to the challenge of youth.

U. S. Women Expected To Balk At Dior Decree On Kneecaps

NEW YORK (AP) — Will American women bow to foreign dictate and expose their kneecaps?

The House of Dior in Paris says they will.

A few years ago U.S. women humbly and gladly wore longer skirts in compliance with the Dior "new look" edict. But the new House of Dior decree for knee-length dresses is bound to be challenged.

Not by the men. By the women.

American men, by and large, are always in favor of shorter skirts — so long as their own wives don't wear them. They welcome the prospect of the breeze-swept feminine knee, just so the knee doesn't belong in their household.

Women don't mind following any clothing style, no matter how ridiculous, so long as it is the clothing that looks ridiculous.

A prime example: the briefly-lived "sack look." It made a woman look like she was ambling along in a tent. But it was the package that looked ridiculous — not the contents it veiled.

When a fashion makes the woman herself look ridiculous however, it is bound to run into real trouble. And that is the problem the House of Dior seems to be boldly running up against.

The average feminine kneecap serves a highly functional purpose, but it is not an ornament of nature. Poets have sung the charms of practically all other parts of the feminine anatomy. But who ever wrote an ode to a kneecap?

Now and then you do hear of a girl with lovely dimpled kneecaps.

They are also — let's face it — often on the knobby side. Go to any beach and see for yourself.

When you get right down to it — and pray let's do — only about one in 10 girls has legs she can look at in the mirror herself without a feeling verging from mild depression to total despair.

THEY BOW OUT too much or they bend in too much. They are too thick or too thin. Why should she expose them willingly in a losing competition with the few girls whose gams are charming?

All she has to do to bolster her in this decision is to glance in the family album and see how mom or grandma looked in the 1920s. That was a real short-skirted era, too — the dresses were above the knees, or seemed to be. And they wore rolled stockings.

Ugh! Women never, before or since, looked so outrageously ridiculous.

CAN THE HOUSE of Dior make them look that way again? We doubt it.

As a lady we have been married to a long time remarked, "Sure I'd wear one of those short skirts out of the house — if the house caught on fire!"

How Much Should Fire House Cost?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your article about San Anselmo's new proposed fire house was to say the least, most interesting.

I, and I suppose lots of people have seen similar plots in grade "B" or is it "C" movies?

This is referring to some figures you published and some just plain figures. Also I fully believe this is a very conservative estimate:

$13,500 for the lot, $45,000 for the building, $2,500 for the court costs on property, $15,000 for culverting the creek, and $45,000 interest on the building loan. Total is $121,000 for either a two-truck four-man station or a three-truck six-man station.

Not bad, you say. Some sunny Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. San Anselmo, take a ride up Novato way and see our (paid for by the way) six-truck 10-man fire station, total cost $48,000.

I would say off-hand, somebody is making money, not you Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer of San Anselmo, but somebody.

Of course it may be us in Novato who are missing the boat, it may be we should hurry and incorporate so we can delve into high finance, hire a city manager, etc.

If this is progress, let's stop now and save a few million.

City-County Deserves Study

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Your editorial of July 22 commenting on the nine incorporated towns in Marin County and advocating a city and county government which would promote efficiency and reduce taxes, deserves study and consideration.

For a starter we might work for a county police department, a county fire department and a county water department.

In addition to the nine incorporated towns, we have the federal, state and county governments governing a population of less than 150,000 people, the costs of which are constantly increasing.

Should Novato become incorporated, that will mean one more government to support by the taxpayers of Novato. Since we are faced with building schools and increasing our water supply, this means more bonded indebtedness.

Not only will Novato have the distinction of becoming the largest city in Marin County, but will eventually enjoy the highest tax rate in the county and possibly in the state, a dubious honor that Fred Volz of the Novato Advance forgot to mention in a recent letter to you.

BENNETT CERF

Mrs. Hilda Broughton, whom I encountered on "What's My Line" recently, has one of the oddest occupations in the country. She counts fish! From a special spot along the Columbia River in Oregon, Mrs. Broughton counts for the U.S. Government the number of shad, sturgeon, and salmon that pass by the Dallas Dam on their way to upstream spawning grounds. In one exceptionally busy day, Mrs. Broughton counted over 8,000 fish swimming busily upstream! One day she even saw a wild duck paddling through the locks, but didn't bother to count it.

The Government uses Mrs. Broughton's tabulations to determine the length of the commercial fishing season.

Nun Who Wanted To Fly A Plane Faster Than Sound Hasn't Given Up

Sister Mary Aquinas, the outspoken 65-year-old Roman Catholic nun from Green Bay, Wis., still has her heart set on breaking the sound barrier in an Air Force jet.

She made that clear at Hamilton Air Force Base last week just before taking off on an hour-long flight over the Bay Area in a C119 flying boxcar. She had turned down a chance to fly in a faster-than-sound jet, she said, when told she would have to wear a special pressurized suit. That would mean removal of her habit.

"I've been told by many military people that I could break the sound barrier in level flight, and I wouldn't need to remove my habit," she told Lt. Col. James A. Ward, 4th Air Force director of operations and pilot of the C119.

"They could take me on a level flight without 'G' maneuvers — isn't that right?" she asked Ward. He nodded affirmatively.

She didn't make it this time, but Sister Aquinas has been invited by the University of San Francisco to come back next year to conduct another summer school science class for school teachers.

The airminded sister proved herself more than a capable pilot on the flight. While she was at the controls from Pt. Reyes to San Francisco, photographers jammed the cockpit asking for "just one more shot, please." She complied with obliging smiles.

Then over San Francisco, after Sister Aquinas had finished a steep turn, one of the 33 teacher-students who went along for the ride, fell victim to airsickness.

"We'll have to rescue her," said the busy pilot into the microphone. And from time to time: "How is the sick passenger doing now?"

When the big cargo plane landed back at Hamilton, the sprightly nun was the first one off, giving a helping hand to her students who disembarked smiling.

"How did she handle?" she was asked. "A little stiffer than a jet," came the reply.

ANOTHER scheduled appearance at Hamilton the other day failed to show.

Flyers at the base had been looking forward to the arrival of a World War I biplane, flown by Hollywood curator and pilot Frank Tallman, who has flown many of his old-time, heavier-than-air contraptions for movies.

The landing at Hamilton was to have commemorated the first flight across the English Channel made by Frenchman Louis Bleriot on July 25, 1909.

Tallman was to give the Air Force spectators a thrill by doing a snap roll over the flight line and then taxiing up to an F101 Voodoo for a television camera.

The stunt never came off. The television company decided not to sponsor it after learning what it would cost for insurance to display the venerable aircraft in San Francisco.

Brig. Gen. Edwin L. Tucker, who last week retired from the Air Force amid all the fanfare of a full dress parade after serving as vice commander of Western Air Defense Force, had gained the reputation among other officers of not being above an occasional good-humored prank.

The general is driving his Jeep station wagon to Florida, where he and Mrs. Tucker will live in retirement.

What the general didn't know when he left Hamilton, however, (but what he knows now) is that someone had placed a "just married" sign on the rear of the jeep — and a frozen trout under the front seat.

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and Pacific Gas and Electric Co. have agreed on a new one-year contract, a joint announcement said yesterday.

Farm Machine Sales Increase

NEW YORK (AP)—A survey of leading farm machinery manufacturers shows that sales this year are running 20 per cent ahead of 1958.

The manufacturers report they are in a good position in terms of available steel despite the national strike.

The American Jewish Year Book estimates there are 5,260,000 Jewish people living in the U.S. today, compared with slightly more than 1,000,000 in 1899.

TAKE IT FROM EXPERT, OWLS ARE JUST DUMB

He stopped by the Bronx Zoo this week, and his scorn for owls knew no bounds.

"They are dumber than chickens, if that's possible," he said.

Death Penalty Seldom Used In Canada

OTTAWA (AP)—Capital punishment has been reduced in Canada since the Conservatives came to power two years ago.

Prime Minister John Deifenbaker's cabinet has commuted 25 of 32 death sentences since June, 1957. The previous Liberal cabinet allowed 21 hangings and commuted 18 death sentences between 1954 and 1956.

CRIMINAL LAW

Under Canadian criminal law, the courts must sentence anyone convicted of murder to death. But the federal cabinet decides whether a murderer hangs or receives a life sentence instead.

The Conservatives' reduction of death sentences has led to criticism in some quarters that the cabinet is making a mockery of court decisions. Justices A. M. Manson of Kamloops, B.C., charges that the cabinet's action constitutes an infringement of Parliament's rights.

Lester B. Pearson, Liberal leader in the House of Commons, said that if the government wants to abolish death sentences, it should propose such a change in Canadian law and let Parliament decide.

PARLIAMENT'S RIGHT

But Justice Minister Edmund D. Fulton said in an interview the cabinet's policy is no indication that the government wants to abolish capital punishment. Such an action, he said, is a right only the Parliament can exercise.

"There should certainly be no feeling on the part of a judge that in commuting a death sentence we are reversing him," he added, contending that there is a difference between the court's responsibility to administer the law and the cabinet's duty to exercise its law-given prerogative of mercy.

"That is a responsibility a cabinet cannot evade," Fulton said.

Year In Jail Given For Bad Checks

John William Steckter, 35, of 240 Bayview street, San Rafael, has been sentenced to serve a year in the county jail, to be served concurrently with a state prison sentence.

He was arrested last May for writing a $40 bad check on May 16 and a $50 bar check May 17 at liquor stores in Mill Valley.

Sentence was pronounced Monday by Superior Court Judge Thomas F. Keating.

Steckter was under parole by the California Adult Authority when he was arrested, and his parole has been revoked, according to Deputy Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety.

Steckter told the court he has 11 months to serve as a parolee. He is being held for his parole officer, and it is believed the Adult Authority will order his return to prison.

The length of time he will have to serve in state prison will be up to the Adult Authority. It is possible he might serve his county sentence while he is in state prison.

In 1958 he was sentenced to state prison from Sonoma County on conviction of writing bad checks. He also has been convicted of non-support, drunken driving and battery.

INDIA LUXURY

New Delhi To Have Pure Milk

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—With foreign help, the Indian government is completing a project to provide New Delhi with its first dependably pure fresh milk.

Milk is a luxury in India. Those who can afford it usually get milk from emaciated, sickly cows, diluted with impure water.

But to a devout Hindu, milk is nectar. It is one of the prime offerings to a deity. Nothing is said to please a departing soul more than a few spoonfuls of milk.

The government is building a big milk processing plant in the heart of New Delhi's industrial suburb. A system of cattle colonies is being established within a 50-mile radius of the city.

Sacred cows will continue to wander in Delhi's streets, but small, unsanitary private farms will be banned from the city.

Five countries are supplying money, experts, and equipment for the first milk plant of its kind in India. More than half of the funds for the four-million-dollar project came from New Zealand, through the Colombo Plan. Ten experts and machinery have come from Britain, West Germany, Sweden and Denmark.

The plant will turn out 100,000 gallons of milk a day. It will also produce ice cream, butter, and the first powdered milk made in India.

The foreign experts hope to get the plant into production by mid-September. The original completion date was Independence Day, Aug. 15. A water and power shortage caused the delay.

Bolinas Beach Utility Board Names Chairman

J. Paul Sterling has resigned as chairman of the Bolinas Beach Public Utility District board.

Directors Monday night chose Charles G. Hadley, former vice chairman, to succeed Sterling as chairman. Frank Fuller was named vice chairman. John S. Lancaster was appointed to the board to fill out Sterling's term, which expires next year.

Secretary Calvin C. Talcott announced that the water situation has improved over the last month but a hazard still exists. He said consumers are still warned to exercise extreme care in the use of water and to avoid waste of any kind.

Young Boys Should Have Freedom But Not For Destructive Doings

"You say small boys need freedom," a woman writes, "but you don't know the boys in my neighborhood. The minute they get away from home they run wild. They broke two of my front windows. They made a game out of pulling up some new bushes I planted. Then they hit each other with them. Their mothers seem to think their boys can do no wrong. They never correct them. How much freedom should boys have? What can I do to protect myself?"

"I'm glad you wrote. I do believe that small boys should have a lot of freedom during the summer. But I don't mean freedom to be destructive. They need the chance to run, play, climb trees and make noise. But they shouldn't break windows or pull up bushes. Along with the freedom boys need some supervision. They can't be turned loose. The risk is too great. Mothers need to know where their sons are and what they're doing. They must interfere when bad things start.

What can you do? First talk with other neighbors whose homes and yards have been damaged by the boys. Get them to join you. Present a united front to the boys' parents. Be friendly. Be patient. Let them understand you know boys will be boys. But also make it clear that they've gone too far. Ask the boys' fathers to exert more authority with their sons. Suggest other things the boys can do. Is there a playground near you? Then ask the recreation leader to get the gang involved in activities there. Are they in the Scouts? Or the Cubs? Then talk with their leaders. They may be able to influence them. Make it clear you won't permit any further destruction.

If they keep on being bad get tough. Next time they are openly destructive, call the police. You've a right to protection. And the boys may need some official action.

(Q) "Is it true that unwise use of hypnotism can drive people crazy?"

N.D.

(A) Put it this way. Psychiatrists have reported some cases where unwise use of hypnotism has caused "psychotic breaks." In other words, it has contributed to insanity.

ALMANAC

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 5, the 217th day of the year, with 148 more days in 1959.

The moon is in its first quarter.

The morning star is Mercury.

The evening stars are Jupiter, Saturn, Venus and Mars.

On this date in history:

In 1858, the first transatlantic cable was completed.

In 1861, the United States government levied an income tax for the first time in the nation's history.

In 1864, the Union fleet fought the battle of Mobile Bay in the Civil War to control the South's last port on the Gulf of Mexico, and to smash a rebel fleet as it was being built.

In 1914, President Woodrow Wilson offered to mediate in Europe.

Pedestrian Ways Being Given 45-Day Trial

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Downtown Toledo, fighting to hold its retail business from the lure of shopping centers in the outskirts, is using some of the tricks of its suburban rivals.

The city began Monday a 45-day trial of four downtown pedestrian malls, complete with grass, trees, flowering shrubs, blooming flowers, benches and a playground for the kiddies.

And to top what the shopping centers offer, the malls include an elongated pool containing five penguins from the Toledo Zoo and paintings from the Toledo Museum of Art.

ONLY FOUR DAYS

All this where only four days before were only asphalt, cement, brick and the busy bustle of vehicular traffic.

Thousands of Toledoans responded as the malls officially opened, milling through the four block area, and, as was hoped, dropping in at stores around it to browse and buy.

Inspector Frank Baumgartner, head of the police traffic bureau, said traffic on the rims of the malls was heavy but kept flowing smoothly.

'SHOT IN ARM'

Michael Yamin, president of a department store, said the mall idea was "a shot in the arm for downtown Toledo. It looks extremely promising."

Mrs. Paul Rausch of Napoleon, Ohio, here with her husband, said: "We came only out of curiosity, but I like the atmosphere and we'll be back. It's a big improvement."

Carl Clymer of Fremont, Ohio, said the mall was "by far the most sensible thing Toledo has ever done to improve business conditions."

80 TONS OF SOIL

Over the weekend 150 workmen placed 2,400 feet of asphalt curb to outline curving walkways down the center of the mall blocks. Eighty tons of topsoil was leveled back of the new curbs and topped with 350 square yards of sod.

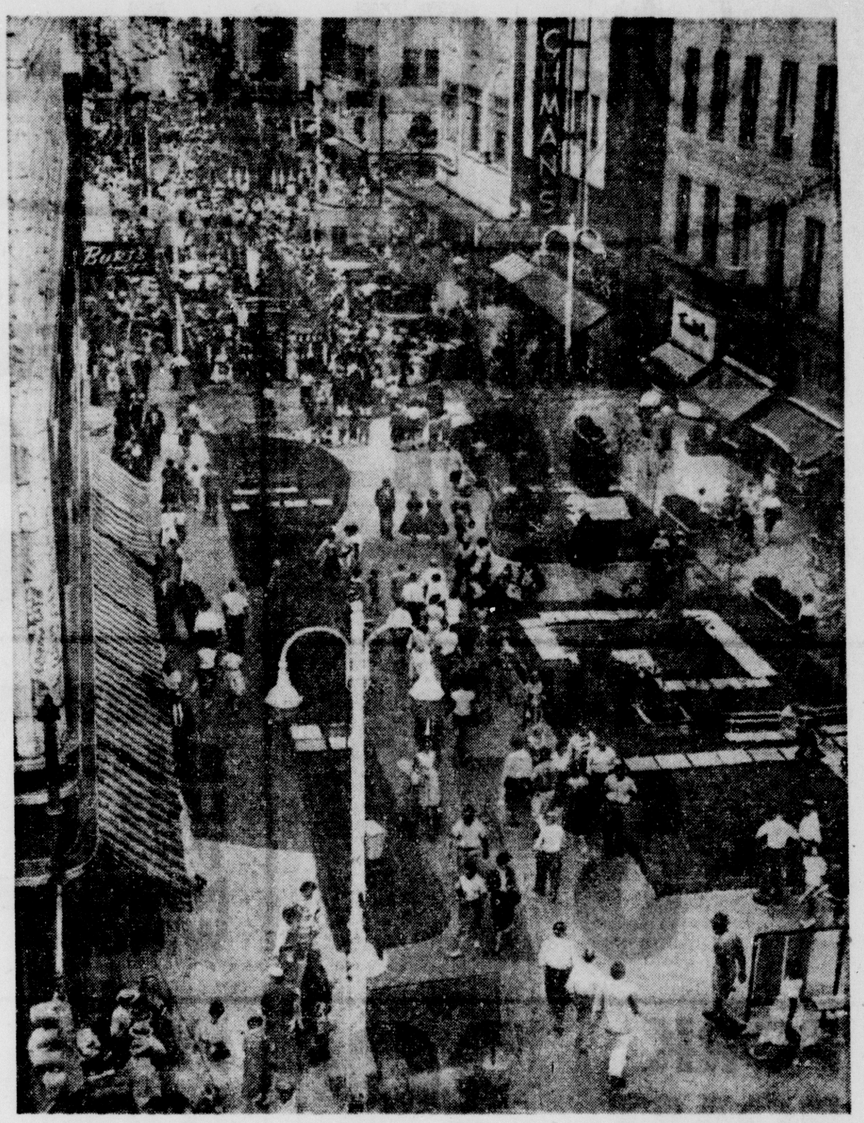
The workmen set out 110 young trees, more than 100 shrubs, and some 10,000 flowering plants. Toledo nurserymen supplied these at cost.

The background of the malls can be traced back to many plans over many years to brighten up downtown Toledo.

IDEA CAUGHT ON

But the idea caught on early this year when six teams from the Toledo chapter of the American Institute of Architects began putting down on paper their thoughts on how the downtown section of this city of some 360,000 population could get a face lift.

After the 45-day trial is over the mall proponents will appraise the value of the downtown center. If it has been a success, if the shopping center indicates a continued trend toward downtown stores, city and county officials will begin planning for a permanent and more elaborate mall system.



WOULD IT WORK IN MARIN?—Shopping malls similar to this one opened this week in Toledo, Ohio, have been suggested for both San Rafael and San Anselmo. The Toledo mall, to be open for a 45-day trial, includes slides and swings for youngsters, benches for the foot-weary, even penguins from the city's zoo. (AP Wirephoto)

Measles Takes Decline In Marin

The number of measles cases in Marin County was down to three—one of the lowest levels of the summer — for the week ending Saturday, according to Dr. Carolyn B. Albrecht, county health officer.

The cases were in Mill Valley, Larkspur and San Rafael. San Rafael had the only four cases of mumps in the county and the only case of tuberculosis. San Anselmo had the lone "strep" infection case.

Auto Dealership Changes Its Name

Town and Country Motors at 601 Francisco boulevard will become known as the Leon C. Felton Co. tomorrow.

Leon C. Felton, president of the company bearing his name and holding a Volkswagen dealership, said his company has acquired all the assets of Town and Country Motors which has been conducted underthat name for the past five years with himself as president since organization in 1954.

No change in personnel will be made, Felton said.

Art Festival At Sausalito This Weekend

Plans are complete for the opening of the two-day Outdoor Art Festival at Sausalito to begin Saturday in the municipal parking lot at the foot of El Portal street adjacent to the sandspit, according to Chairman Henry T. Malcheski.

The event will be open from 10 a.m. until dark Saturday and Sunday, Malcheski announced. There is no admission charge.

He said nearly 200 Bay Area artists will display oil paintings, water colors, prints, ceramics, hand made jewelry, weaving, sculpture, mosaics and other art forms.

In addition artist Jean Varda of Sausalito will speak on "Artists in organization-man society."

Works of the artists will be on sale, Malcheski said.

Touring Players To Visit Air Base

A touring drama group from New York Technical University will present two plays for airmen and the public in the amphitheater behind the new chapel at Hamilton Air Force Base at 8:30 tonight.

The plays are "The Importance of Being Earnest" by Oscar Wilde, and "The Potting Shed" by Graham Greene.

Hearing On New Torre Trial Set

A hearing on a motion for a new trial for Mrs. Elizabeth M. Torre, 38, who was found guilty of drunken driving, will be considered at 4:30 p. m., Aug. 13 in Marin Municipal Court.

TRUST YOURSELF, URGES ZEN BUDDHISM EXPERT

Mill Valley Philosopher Says West Can Learn From Orient

By RANDALL GOULD

Man's newly won power to control the atom has only pointed up his need for power to control himself, in the view of a Mill Valley philosopher.

Alan W. Watts of 310 Laverne avenue came originally from England, but his spiritual home is the Far East which his body has never visited.

What concerns him basically is not his own physical whereabouts but the human adjustment well achieved, he feels, by a few great souls of the Orient. He thinks it now urgently overdue because of terrifying strides for which we are ill prepared.

"One comes back to the problem of controlling the controller," says Watts meditatively. "We give ourselves atomic power but in order not to abuse it we need to control man. Up to now we have only increased our mistrust in ourselves.

"The more you succeed in controlling the world the more you create basic problems. The idea of collaboration between man and nature is absolutely basic. To the Chinese it is funny when we talk of conquering mountains. 'Why do you have to be so hostile?' they ask. 'Because the mountain is there you can get so high!'"

In a study of Zen Buddhism started in boyhood, Watts feels he has found simple solutions of increasing interest to everybody everwhere. He began this study in England when he was 14 and without so much as visiting China or other Oriental lands ("I'm not a Far East man but a philosopher") he had qualified himself to start writing of the subject at 20. He came to the United States in 1938.

Now at 44 he has accomplished a dozen books, American citizenship, both television and radio programs, two unusual phonograph records, and a grandchild.

"Currently the interest in Zen is enormous throughout the United States," says Watts. "I spend most of my time traveling around the country and lecturing about it, largely at universities. Probably I speak more to psychiatrists than to any other group—they're a very humble group of people recognizing their own difficulties and ignorance. I find them extraordinarily rewarding.

"What caused my own first interest? I was interested in the great beauty of old Chinese art, and was moved to try to find out what lay beneath it."

He found tranquility and solutions such as man now needs urgently, Watts reports.

"Zen carries what is to the West an audacious idea: that you have to let go of yourself and trust yourself," he says. "We always expect this to result in mayhem.

"In the West we have a tendency to mistrust what we feel we cannot control, thus to mistrust nature itself. In the Chinese view this puts you into contradiction — if you can't trust your deepest self, how can you trust your mistrust?"

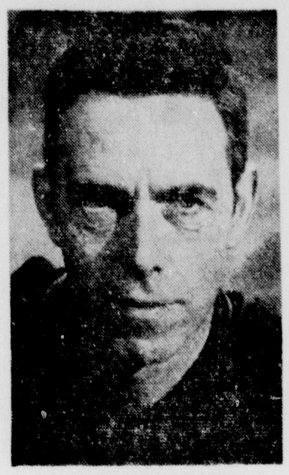
"The thing is like a bicycle," he says. "The beginner thinks he should turn against the direction of a fall, which actually is the fastest way to collapse. Then he tries turning the way he's falling, and strangely enough he comes up again.

"This actually is an application of the principle of judo—you don't oppose the fall, you go with it. Japan's jiu-jitsu comes straight out of Chinese philosophy.

"The same idea holds true of conquering space. Because it opens out you travel through it.

"What I am doing is in many ways to apply old ideas to new problems — of technology and of psychology and psychiatry. Just now I am starting a new book on the relationship of Eastern ideas to psychiatry."

To a suggestion that nations of the Far East don't seem in all respects well adjusted to modern problems, Watts readily agrees, commenting: "The East can fail to apply its own wisdom, of course. All these ideas have never been at any time practiced by more than a minority."



ALAN W. WATTS

Of his dozen books Watts says that only two are specifically about Zen Buddhism. The rest deal with various aspects of religion and philosophy (not given sharp distinction by Orientals). Several are about Christianity, and embody his individual philosophy.

The most recent is "Nature, Man and Woman." Probably due for much larger circulation in the future is "The Way of Zen" which will be out in a paper-back edition this fall with an initial printing of 100,000.

Of great interest to Watts is the Japanese verse form called haiku, literally "playful phrase," a 17-syllable poem to which one of his two recent phonograph records made in Sausalito is devoted. This record and one of poems connected with Zen have been made by Bill Loughbrough of Sausalito Musical Recording Associates. Reading original Japanese, in company with Watts' exposition in English, is Sumare Hasegawa Jacobs, wife of Henry Jacobs, known for "Vortex" featuring music and visual effects. A satirical type of haiku is featured on one of the records.

As to television, Watts has a filmed 13-week series for national educational TV called "Eastern Wisdom and Modern Life," seen here Mondays at 9 p.m. over station KQED (Channel 9).

Watts also has an FM radio program heard Sunday nights over KPFA and in Los Angeles over station KPFK. This is called "Way Beyond the West."

His wife, Dorothy DeWitt, is an American by birth. They have four children and one grandson. One daughter is married and living near Chicago, while another is in school in England, where Watts occasionally goes on family visits. He has just returned from one such trip, with a short money-making stop-off in New York, and now hopes to "be around here for a few months."

It's easy to see why he enjoys his flower-and-family-surrounded Mill Valley existence amidst books and Oriental pictures. Yet Watts stresses that his "faith in life" is not static but dynamic.

"This basic attitude of faith may lead you into mistakes but it's a proper gamble," says he. "Mistrust just puts you into a vicious circle."

Electric Range Shows Home Is Up To Date

Modernizing the kitchen is modernizing your life! The whole house takes on sparkle when the display area is a new electric kitchen.

Greatest joy of all, is an electric range—the whole family enjoys cleaner, faster, more nutritious and tempting electric range cooking. Mother is relieved of so many tiresome chores, with automatic electric cooking on top of the stove, in broiler or oven, and has more time to spend with the family, and for outside interests.

Father is relieved of postponing installation of an electric range and other major appliances that make the modern kitchen the first goal of every family. Now, modernizing the kitchen to electricity is easy to arrange by any of several plans—such as a property improvement or home improvement loan, available at most banks and savings and loan associations. Then, there is the FHA Title I method of insured loan—your local appliance dealer will be glad to get all details for you.

There is still another type of financing that revolves around reuse of your mortgage.

New Magic: Making Frost From Flame

The magic of producing frost from a flame is something millions of homeowners take for granted. These are the families who enjoy modern, fully automatic gas refrigerators.

The dependability, economy and efficiency of gas makes it the ideal fuel for safe, convenient storage of food. Because there are no moving parts, no on-off cycling, gas refrigerators are constantly silent and interior temperatures remain the same 24 hours a day.

One of the features homemakers like best, says the American Gas Assn., is the automatic ice maker which makes semi-circular disks of ice automatically, deposits them in a handy storage bin, then fills itself with water and frfeezes a new supply. This process is repeated until an automatic control indicates that the ice bin is filled.

Best of all, there are never any trays to fill or spill. You have all the ice crescents you need automatically.

Other features include a colorful, yet functional design. The interior is pink with blue and charcoal for the crisper drawers, two glide-out aluminum shelves with safety stops, tilt-out compartments for butter and eggs and full-width door shelves in charcoal gray and brushed gold. Rosewood inlaid door handles match the decorative motif.

Automatic self defrosting, a roomy deep freeze compartment and generous storage space are additional features offered on today's gas refrigerators.

Housewife With Modern Laundry Will Always Have Fair Washday

The sun shines 365 days a year in a modern home laundry.

That's the safest, surest and most certain weather forecast you can find. Even in the tropics in the rainy season you could safely predict sunny weather in the modern electric laundry room.

One reason, of course, is that modern appliances like the automatic washer and dryer have liberated washday from the weather outside. Grandmother, of course, just had to wait for a good "drying day." And even then, some of the good drying days were so hot that she could take little enjoyment from the prospect of standing over boiling wash tubs.

Today's housewife, of course, need never move outside of her laundry room and the whole process of modern laundering is so easy and carefree that the lady of the house couldn't care less about what the weather outside is like.

But freedom from worry about the weather is only one reason for the "sunny" disposition of women who have a modern electric laundry in their home. Actually, laundry day is always "fair" for them because all the "clouds" that once hung over washday have been dissipated by today's labor saving appliances, new achievements in soil-resistant and care-free fabrics, and spectacular advances in soaps, detergents, bleaches and starches.

Consider for a moment the changes which electrical appliances have made in washday. Can you remember the hand scrubbing, the boiling of clothes, the transferring of heavy wet laundry from one tub to another? With today's washers the housewife need do nothing but set the controls and turn the machine on. From that point an array of mechanical brains and capable electrical servants take over and do the washing.

And years ago, after the clothes had been washed, they had to be loaded in a basket, the basket carried upstairs and the heavy, cumbersome laundry hung on the line. Then you worried about the weather, smoke, wind-blown dirt — and a dozen other potential catastrophes. In today's laundry the damp-dry clothes are moved from the washer to the neighboring dryer, a switch is turned on and all drying headaches have been taken care of.

Finally, the clothes must be ironed. That once could mean but one thing — exhausting hours standing over an ironing board. But modern ironers have taken the physical work out of ironing while at the same time drastically reducing the time needed for this operation.

Is it so surprising then that women who own modern laundries have a sunny disposition when it comes to washday. For them it's obvious that in their laundries, at least, the sun really does shine 365 days a year.

Early Risers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—When men of Theta Kappa Phi turned over their Ohio State University fraternity house to dates during a weekend party, there was a catch.

Before leaving, fraternity members hid several alarm clocks. Alarms began sounding at 4 a.m., keeping the 32 girls temporarily occupying the house busy hunting down the clocks.

Pack Crush-Proof Wool For Vacation

Who hasn't been to Europe hese days? It seems everyone as either been or is planning n going. The new jet flights nake it from New York to Lon- lon in 6½ hours, which is bout the time it takes to drive rom Cincinnati to Cleveland. Of course, many people who re in no hurry like the relaxa- ion of a boat — for nothing nakes one let go more than eing in the middle of the cean on, say, one of the lux- rious Queens.

Packing seems to be a task nost people dread; there is no eason to. If people enjoy plan- ing their trip in every other vay—poring over maps and leciding what cities they want o see in their allotted time— here is no reason planning a ravel wardrobe shouldn't be ust as much fun. You just de- ide what you need and what ou want to take to be able to njoy your stay, lay everything ut, and pack it carefully, the ig items in first, the smaller tems tucked into a corner or nto shoes or slippers.

The best tip you can give any nan planning a trip abroad is o pack wool. Europe's climate s not our own; even in the ummer, many parts of Britain nd the Continent are chilly at ight, and you'll find snow in nany parts of the Alps; the est way to feel secure and repared is to take wool cloth- ng, which will keep you com- ortable during the day, warm uring the evening. And, of ourse, nothing retains its hape like wool—so that pack- ng and hard use will still allow our clothes to look fresh and eat.

Jersey Slacks Stay Fresh

One of the best pieces of ews for a man's travel ward- obe is the introduction of nitted wool jersey—in sports ackets, suits, and even slacks. hese clothes spring out as resh as when they were packed, just as your favorite wool sweater does. And there are no wrinkles.

And you'd best take a wool sweater or two with you—one long sleeve and one short sleeve. The long sleeve sweater will be perfect for the day when you want to hike around the Lake Country or stroll through the fishing villages of Portugal; and a sleeveless sweater slipped under your jacket can take the chill off at night. A wool shirt is a good thing to pack, too—for comfort when relaxing at your Tyrolean chalet in Austria. We recommend, too, taking along a short topcoat—just in case. If you are going to stay on through the cool months, there are top- coats with button-in wool lin- ings that can double as a robe.

Sport Coats Are Essential

You'll wear a sports jacket often — when driving through the villages of Southern Italy or visiting the Chateaux of the Loire. It would be well to take more than one, if you can man- age it—a wool Norfolk, say, for a real country gentleman's feel, and a little dressier jacket, like a wool tweed or a plaid, plus a very sporty one, like a very lightweight wool two-button striped blazer for your days on the Riviera. And be sure to pack wool socks—you'll be glad you did for all that heavy walk- ing, especially in the country- side.

Of course you'll need suits— for all your evenings in Eu- rope's sophisticated cities. Be- fore you leave might be a good time to buy your first Contnen- tal suit, certainly in the spirit of your trip and sure to look very elegant and suave.

If you are taking a cruise, by the way, it is a custom that the first night out, and also the last, a black tuxedo is worn. A black worsted dinner jacket— even in the summer—is really more practical for any lengthy trip.

STRUGGLE LOOMS

Planners Eye Famed Flea Market As Housing Site

Herald Tribune News Service

Real estate brokers and builders are eyeing with envy the valuable 125-acre plot oc- cupied by the esoteric displays of the Flea Market dealers in the midst of a heavily populat- ed suburban region.

City planners as well as busi- nessmen feel that large hous- ing developments could be built there to help solve the housing shortage.

But it is obvious that the bric-a-brac dealers, including some of the best antique deal- ers in Paris, are not going to give up without a struggle a location which enables them to realize about $70 million dol- lars worth of business a year.

These are hardy folk and they have a long tradition be- hind them. It was under Louis- Philippe, the bourgeois king, in the first half of the 19th Century, that odd characters pitched their tents there and started selling old mattresses, some of which were inhabited by colonies of fleas—whence comes the name Flea Market.

In the course of the years, and particularly in the past decade, buyers have been able to find in addition a rather odd assortment of items ranging from rusty swords to ivory toothpicks as well as some of the finest antiques sold in Paris. But the fleas are still there.

Barren Home Of Goats Being Transformed Into Air Base

SAN CLEMENT ISLAND (AP) —This finger of land, jutting out of the sea off the Southern California coast, is being trans- formed from a barren home for goats into a jet air base.

Until selected as an air base site, the island was occupied only by a tiny Air Force radar station, a Navy shore bombard- ment range and 15,000 wild goats.

The Navy gave Chad-JV Co. of Long Beach a $6,300,000 con- tract and 450 days to build the base.

The project is a monumental task. Everything that goes into it must be transported from the mainland by ship and plane.

Chad-JV must bring enough material and equipment ashore to move eight million cubic yards of soil and rock, build a runway 13,000 feet long, con- struct acres of hangars and apron areas, and sustain 250 workers in primitive surround- ings for more than a year.

A pumping station was con- structed to lift sea water up a sheer cliff. Water is being used at the rate of 100,000 gallons a day to compact soil and rock used on the air strip.

Fresh water became a press- ing problem. The island's sup- ply is so poor that it cannot be used for mixing concrete, let alone for human consumption.

Chad-JV solved the problem by bringing fresh water ashore as ballast on the thrice weekly supply voyages of four 280-ton barges.

How Big?

Something Old, Borrowed, Applies To Nuptial Feast, Too

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Stop tossing in your sleep, Mother of the Bride. You may be responsible for the food at your daughter's wedding, but you can plan an up-to-date menu and take it easy.

Gone with the wind are overladen tables. Modern guests like something to quench the thirst, something to enjoy nibbling. Is the reception to be a small at-home one in the afternoon or evening? Then these menu suggestions may be used for 50 or more guests — whether they are invited from five to six o'clock in the afternoon or after an 8:30 ceremony in the evening.

First something old: assorted tea sandwiches. These the old standbys of chicken or turkey, ham and cheese mixtures. Or small squares of hot cornbread split and sandwiched together again with slivers of Smithfield ham.

Something new? Deviled almonds and pickled mushrooms. The first is nothing more than buttered almonds given wonderful flavor with an all-purpose herb seasoning salt. The second, tiny raw mushrooms steeped in a marinade of olive oil, wine vinegar and spices.

Something borrowed? The punch recipe. That punch is always a worry to mothers of brides. What combination of ingredients to use? How much to prepare? Will the friends who want a non-alcoholic refresher really like it?

The following punch recipe we can vouch for; it's a combination of flavors we've used (in smaller quantities) many times for summer parties. But this large rule we borrow from the fine spanking-new "Abingdon Basic Cookbook" by Mary L. Chenault (Abingdon Press).

Every recipe in the book has been tested and retested in the author's foods and home management classes at Watkins Institute, an adult education center in Nashville, Tennessee. These classes have been attended by hundreds of girls and women and a few brave men; teacher and pupils shared their experiences and their choice recipes. The book itself would make a fine gift for a bride.

Ingredients: 2 cans (46 ounces) unsweetened pineapple juice, 2 cans (46 ounces) sweetened orange juice, 4 cans fresh lemon juice (2 dozen fresh lemons or possibly less), 6 cups sugar syrup (2 cups sugar dissolved in 6 cups water), 1 cup strong tea (made by steeping 5 tea bags in 1 cup freshly boiled water), 2 large bottles ginger ale, 2 large bottles sparkling water, 1 quart or more of orange sherbet (optional).

Method: Mix first 5 ingredients together. Just before serving, add ginger ale and sparkling water and stir gently in large glass jar or bottle. Pour over large block of ice in punch bowl and spoon sherbet over top. This amount will serve at least 110 punch cups.

Note: Ice may be molded in fancy pudding mold. A large piece of ice is better than cubes or lump ice, which make it harder to serve.

Pastor Building Home For Boys Who Need 2nd Chance

CLINTON, Tenn. (UPI)—With the Lord's help, some cash and plenty of work an ex-bulldozer operator is building a home for boys who need a second chance.

Two years ago, Rev. Luther Helton, a quiet man with sad eyes and big, work-knotted hands, got a sign from the Lord that caused him to sell his bulldozer, mortgage his home and buy 202 acres here in the East Tennessee hills.

On this land he is building a combination home-school-farm for teen-age boys who "has got in trouble with the law and needs to straighten up and make a man."

The establishment, already incorporated as Camp Helton, will "give boys a decent home and a chance to learn farming or a trade that'll fit 'em back into society as useful citizens."

Rev. Helton, licensed to preach by the Baptist Church eight years ago, has "never felt led to pastor a church because my work is with young people in the hospitals and the jails."

Until two years ago he earned his living with his bulldozer—clearing land, stripping coal, building roads and "anything that was wanted."

Rev. Helton, a middle-aged man, ran his fingers through a mane of grey-streaked hair as he explained how he "used to wake up in the dead hours of midnight and think about building the camp. I felt led to do what I thought the Lord wanted of me, but I didn't want to start lessen I knowed for certain He was behind me."

Speaking in a slow drawl he told how, when the 202 acres were offered for sale, he roamed the forest-covered land for three days "praying and waiting for a sign from the Lord."

On the third day "a neighbor boy that knew me came and asked me to please pray for him because he needed to be saved. I prayed for him and when I saw him later in the day the Lord had saved him."

That was Rev. Helton's sign. He sold his bulldozer and several trucks and mortgaged his home to make the down payment.

Since then he has supported his wife and seven-year-old adopted daughter by planting a big garden for food, selling some possessions and working part-time for a construction company.

Work on the camp has progressed, too, but there is still a long way to go. There have been some financial donations and plenty of promises, "but what we need most are folks who will take a hold and do what they feel led to do."

"At first I felt it was an awfully big step," she said, "but I know if you have faith the Lord provides."

It looks as if He has.

Rough Customers

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP)—An 11-year-old boy told police he did not mind when his 14-year-old companion lit a cigarette but was upset "when he finished the smoke and mashed out the cigarette against my head."

Room Lighting Tranquilizes Tense Nerves

"Not enough light or the wrong kind of light can easily produce nervous tension by putting you under stress and strain," according to the American Home Lighting Institute.

Poor lighting causes eyestrain which can affect the entire body, producing nervousness, dizziness, even painful headaches.

Insufficient light is the major culprit, but here are some other ways poor lighting can cause nervousness and how it can be corrected:

1. Glare. A source of direct light, such as a light bulb, beamed directly into the eye causes glare. To prevent this, make sure all light bulbs are shielded.

Reflecting surfaces, such as glass furniture tops and mirrors, should be placed where they won't bounce direct light back into the eyes.

2. Excessive contrast. When a bright object is next to a dark surface, the eye jumps back and fourth and is strained. This often happens when you attempt to read under a single lamp while the rest of the room is dark. Solution: Light up the rest of the room, too.

3. Shadows. Shadows are irritating when they constantly shift, attracting the eye's attention. This often occurs in kitchens lighted by a single fixture, causing the homemaker to dodge her own shadow to see what she's doing.

4. High brightness level. A room brilliantly flooded with light produces excitement, and is desirable for parties. But it is not conducive to relaxation. The lower the lighting level, the less stimulation is provided.

River Fighter

BILLINGS, Mont. (AP)—Edward Warlick, a farmer whose land is on the Yellowstone River, has spent $2,000 and worked daily for two and a half months to keep the river from spilling over more of his land.

He has had 150 old car bodies filled with gravel and cemented as a dam across the river, trying to revert it to its original channel. In the past five years the river has covered 25 acres of Warlick's property.

There's Many A Way To 'Bring Home Bacon'

"Bring home the bacon!" This might well have been the fare-thee-well given at country fair time years back. Catching the greased pig was a sports highlight of these festive occasions and the lucky winner in the slippery contest was awarded the pig he caught.

If you go farther back in time, you'll find that highwaymen and beggars used the word, "bacon," to describe the prize and treasures of their adventures.

Many smart and thrifty homemakers will be bringing home this mealtime favorite as this year's increased pork supplies make bacon a better buy than ever. Besides fitting into the menu in a hundred different ways, bacon contributes solid nourishment, food energy, and high quality protein to the diet.

KINDS OF BACON

Bacon squares — small end in some areas.

4. Canadian-style — cured and smoked strip of boneless pork. Available in one piece for home slicing, or pre-sliced and packaged.

STORAGE OF BACON

1. Store bacon in its original wrappings in refrigerator no longer than one week. If stored longer, bacon develops a strong flavor and may darken and dry.

2. Freezing is recommended only for slab bacon, which should be held at 0°F. no longer than 60 days.

HOW TO COOK BACON

Pan-Fry: Place bacon in skillet and cook over low heat. Separate slices as they begin to cook so that each piece is flat in the pan. Turn slices often. Never let the fat smoke or the bacon will have a burned flavor. When browned evenly, drain on absorbent paper.

Bake: Arrange bacon slices on rack in shallow pan. Bake at 400°F. 10 to 15 minutes. This is a handy method to use when a quantity is desired because the bacon requires less watching and needs no turning at all.

Broil: Place bacon slices on rack and broil 3 to 3½ inches below heat source. Broil 2 to 3 minutes to a side, turning once. Broiled bacon is superb, so it's worth the watching this method requires.

SERVING SUGGESTIONS

Diced Cooked Bacon bits add texture as well as a flavor contrast to: omelets, creamed potatoes, corn bread, potato salad, wilted lettuce, cream soups, green peas or beans, stewed tomatoes, egg salad, spaghetti dishes, vegetable casseroles.

Alcoholism

JOHANNESBURG (UPI) — At least one person out of every 30 men, women and children in the South African European population is an alcoholic, according to an estimate by officials at "Northlea," a treatment center for alcoholics located just outside Johannesburg.

A figure used by U. S. researchers is that roughly one of every 36 Americans is an alcoholic.
